COUNTY PAYS HONOR
TO POLISH OFFICERSTwo Members of Foreign Mission Accorded Great Demonstration in City Today

The heart of old Poland, that kingdom of tragic history, throbbled in Stevens Point today on the occasion of the official visit of two members of the Polish Commission from France. The red and white flag of the old kingdom fluttered proudly in the breeze beside the Stars and Stripes and thousands of Portage county residents of Polish descent assembled in the city to pay honor to the distinguished visitors and to the memory of the independent Poland.

Prince Poniatowski, the head of the mission, was unexpectedly called back to France and was consequently unable to come to Stevens Point. However, Capt. W. Gonsiorowski, reputed to be the greatest living Polish author, and Lieut. V. Szaniawski, both of the Polish Army in France, arrived at 9:30 o'clock this morning, as scheduled, and have been the center of a demonstration such as no foreigner ever was accorded in Stevens Point. They were met at the Soo line station by a reception committee and escorted immediately to the residence of Rev. S. A. Elbert, pastor of St. Peter's Catholic church. After a brief rest they went to the Normal school, where, and also at the High school, they delivered addresses in Polish. At 12 o'clock they were entertained at luncheon at the Normal, along with President John F. Sims, Regent George B. Nelson, S. H. Wozzalla, Father Elbert and J. W. Przewlocki.

This afternoon the main events of the day's program took place. Shortly after 1 o'clock a parade, led by Weber's band of this city and the Amherst and Bancroft bands, formed on the public square and marched down Main street to Division, south on Division to Wisconsin, west on Wisconsin to Church and north on Church to the court house, where a great open air meeting was held. A half holiday was observed, practically all business being suspended in the city in accordance with a proclamation of Mayor Walters. The schools of the city were closed for the afternoon and many of the rural schools for the entire day.

The parade was many blocks long and included, in addition to the bands and the State Guard company, large delegations of men, women and children of St. Peter's Catholic church of this city and from the Polish Catholic parishes of Fancher, Junction City, Plover, Belmont, Hull, Alban, Mill Creek and Toran. There were also students and faculty members of the Normal school, students and teachers from the public schools, members of St. John court of Foresters, the High school cadet corps, employees of the Wozzalla Publishing Co., the Automatic Cradle Manufacturing Co., and the Bukolt Manufacturing Co., and various other groups. Twenty-five automobiles carrying members of the general reception committee and others brought up the rear.

Music and addresses comprised the program at the court house this afternoon. The two distinguished visitors will be entertained at dinner at 6 o'clock this evening at the home of J. A. Wozzalla and this evening from 8 to 9 will be at the public library, where a public reception will be held.

Capt. Gonsiorowski and Lieut. Szaniawski are both officers in the independent Polish army, which is financed by France and is serving on the French front. They came to this country to stimulate recruiting among men of their nationality who are not American citizens or are outside the draft age. The men thus recruited are given preliminary training at Niagara, Canada, and already more than 30,000 from this country have been secured. Several from this county have already gone and it is understood that a number of others are about to respond. Mr. Soyda, a member of the editorial staff of The Rolnick, was the examiner yesterday by Dr. V. J. Shippey and will leave soon to join the contingent.

Capt. Gonsiorowski has not seen active service in France, but his companion has a military record. Lieut. Szaniawski, whose home is in Russian Poland, arrived in Paris just three days before the war broke out and joined an infantry company of the French army. He was twice wounded, but each time fully recovered. When the Polish army was formed he was transferred.

The commission has visited many of the larger cities of the country, and has been royally welcomed. Stevens Point is the smallest city they have visited thus far, or will visit.

The two officers are picturesque figures in their uniforms of light blue and deep red, the distinctive uniform of the Polish army. They will remain in Stevens Point until midnight, when they will leave for Minneapolis, where they will also visit Duluth, Winnipeg, Omaha, Kansas City and San Antonio before departing for France. Other members of the commission, which numbered six at one time, are visiting other cities.

TO WINTER AT HIGH BANKS

Frank Blood, Sr., who has been conducting a summer resort several miles up the Wisconsin river, for many years, has closed his place temporarily and will spend the winter at Wm. Moll's cottage, just above town. The Gaines is also at the Moll cottage.

WOULD INCREASE RATES

The Wisconsin Telephone Company has petitioned the railroad commission for permission to inaugurate a zone system of telephone charges increasing with certain stated distances from the exchange. The change, if permitted, would effect 75 exchanges and four sub-exchanges in the state. The new rates would be applicable to every city where there is a Bell telephone exchange and also rural lines running out of the Stevens Point exchange, with 110 subscribers. In addition there are lines to Plover, McDill and the West Side, serving 23 subscribers, which are classed as rural lines.

GREETINGS FROM THE WEST

Los Angeles Resident Sends Letter of Good Cheer—Compares Weather Conditions

Among the many letters of good cheer received by The Gazette last week was one from Eugene P. Kuntz, western sales manager for the Armour Packing Co. at Los Angeles, Cal. Mr. Kuntz married a Stevens Point girl, Miss Edith Nugent, who graduated from the local Normal in 1898 and taught for several years at Ashland. Eugene visited here quite frequently before the family moved west a few years ago.

"We are pleased to learn of The Gazette's new home," he writes, "and presume from now on the paper will contain increased news items concerning the home folks and the immediate vicinity surrounding Stevens Point. We look forward to the receipt of the paper each week, as it is like getting a letter from home, for it contains many happenings that are of interest, even though we are many miles away. It seems believable that you had a spell of cold weather and also snow, for here in California we are still enjoying the beautiful sunshine and warm weather, such as you would experience in August; it is certainly delightful and we have enjoyed it."

Mr. Kuntz may be interested in learning that the freezing temperature which remained with us during practically all of October was the result of a conspiracy man and dealers in winter garments. The latter were enabled to dispose of their heavy goods fully two months earlier than usual. We are now having "Indian summer," which is the most delightful season of the year.

SALE AND SUPPER

The November committee of the Ladies' Aid of St. Stephen's church will give a 35 cent supper and 15 cent coffee at K. C. hall next Wednesday afternoon and evening from 8 to 8 o'clock. The committee in charge is composed of Mrs. Jas. Welch, chairman, Mrs. E. D. Glennon, Mrs. J. J. Pfiffner, Mrs. H. Doll, Mrs. J. Leary, Mrs. L. A. Krembs, Mrs. M. Clifford, Mrs. Ellen Carpenter, Mrs. G. Marshall, Mrs. C. E. Van Hecke, Mrs. Jas. Rice, Mrs. Nelson Strong, Mrs. Bertha Lutz, Mrs. Max Krembs, Mrs. Geo. L. Glennon, Mrs. Mary Peterson, Miss Mary Cassidy, P. J. Jacobs, J. McHugh.

There will also be a sale of fancy and useful articles at the K. C. hall that afternoon and evening, the sale beginning at 2 o'clock.

Articles for this sale have been solicited from all members of the congregation and the proceeds will go to the general fund of the Ladies' Aid and will be entirely separate from the proceeds of the November committee's coffee and supper.

MAC GETS PROMOTED

Geo. Macnisch, who attended the officers' training school at Fort Sheridan and won a commission as second lieutenant in the regular army, is about to be promoted to a first lieutenant, according to word received by his father, C. G. Macnisch, yesterday. George is now in New York city with the 161st infantry, "Sunset" division, but may be sent to France almost any day. In fact he expects to sail as soon as a transport is available.

A MILITARY MATCH

Rev. John S. Landowski, a native Stevens Point man who was recently appointed chaplain in the United States army and is now stationed at Camp Custer, Battle Creek, Mich., performed his first marriage ceremony since the joining the colors, last week. The principals were Lieut. E. A. Sexton of Kenosha, attached to the 330th infantry, and Miss Ethel Masters of Milwaukee. Although the young couple are both Protestants, Father Landowski was designated to read the service, which was of a strictly military character.

WOLOSEK PAYS UP

Barney Wolosek of Plover was assessed $20 and costs, $29 in all, in county court last Friday, for driving an automobile while intoxicated. A similar charge against his father, William Wolosek, was dismissed on motion of the district attorney. The case was an outgrowth of the accident a few weeks ago in which Dewey Coan, son of Policeman T. J. Coan, was injured and the buggy in which he was riding was demolished. The Wolosek's settled with Coan for the damage, paying, it is understood, $75.

CLUB WORKERS COMING FAIR OPENS TUESDAY

Big Institute, First of Kind in County, To Be Held at Normal in December

An institute of Portage county Junior club workers, the first of its kind in the county, will be held at the Stevens Point Normal on Thursday and Friday, Dec. 13 and 14. It is expected that every division of the county organization, with the local leaders, will be present, and a roving big meeting is being arranged for.

The purpose of the institute is twofold: to go over the work accomplished in the season just closed, and to map out a program for 1918. There are perhaps few who fully realize the great benefits that have already been derived from the club work and the possibilities of the future. But it has been well said that Portage county, ten years from now or sooner, will owe much to the activities of the boys and girls of the present along the lines of better farming, better dairying and better living.

The county club is under the supervision of T. L. Bewick, state leader of boys' and girls' club work. County Agent J. M. Coyner has been the life of the movement in this county and has been ably assisted by local leaders. The small units have worked diligently and with fine success, but the work is getting so broad that assistance is needed. This the rural and agricultural departments of the Normal school have consented to give, and their co-operation is looked to to produce results of greater magnitude than has been possible in the past. President Sims is deeply interested in rural education and the institution, with its splendid organization, has been exerting its influence throughout the county in an increasing degree.

The Normal, the county agent and the county superintendent of schools, L. A. Gordon, are co-operating in the work of arranging for the institute. They have already had two meetings and will hold another on Friday of this week, when local leaders will also be present. The program will be prepared at that time.

ERECTS NEW BUILDING

A brand new building, designed to facilitate to the "nth" degree the handling and routing of merchandise, is being erected by C. K. Olsen on the property at 300 Water street. Mr. Olsen is proprietor of the Union Delivery Co. and the new building will be where merchandise will be assembled and routed. A 500 gallon kerosene tank will be installed this week by the Standard Oil Co. It is expected that everything will be in readiness to begin operations on schedule time next Monday morning, and an invitation is extended to the public to call and inspect the new quarters.

GIVE FLAG TO CHURCH

The Westminster club of the Presbyterian church has presented a handsome silk flag to the church. The flag, which occupies a place on the pulpit, was formally accepted at the Sunday morning service by the pastor, Rev. R. J. McLandress, who spoke briefly on the significance of the Stars and Stripes. The banner is mounted on a standard, which was made by Arthur J. Beijer.

SET SPLENDID RECORD

Faculty Members and Students of Normal Subscribe Nearly $2,000 to War Fund

The Stevens Point Normal, in one day's drive, carried out on Tuesday, came within $113 of securing the full $2,000 allotted to the institution as its share of the fund being raised by the Y. M. C. A. among educational institutions of the country for prison camp work.

The total amount subscribed by the undergraduates, faculty members and sixth, seventh and eighth grades of the training department amounted to $1,887. The method of raising the balance has not been fully determined. The training department donated $200 and the faculty members $300, while the rest was subscribed by the students. The campaign will not close until Nov. 18 and the money is to be collected by Dec. 15.

For those students that are unable to pay the full amount at one time arrangements have been made by Prof. F. S. Hyer for borrowing $1,000 from one of the local banks and it will be possible to pay 25 cents a week until the subscribed amount is paid for.

The morning session of Tuesday's school day was turned over to the campaigners. The students met at their various departments, where various ones spoke on the war prison camps.

At the general exercise period the school was assembled to listen to Mr. Carter, who is a Y. M. C. A. secretary at the Great Lakes Naval Station, and Miss Helen Dunn, who is the president of the Y. M. C. A. at Madison, Wisconsin. Thomas King and Esther Kelly of the student body also spoke. Immediately afterwards the blanks were given out.

The money thus secured will go towards the betterment of the soldiers in prison war camps in Europe. The money is being raised by a student conference in carrying out the work in these camps.

FAIR OPENS TUESDAY

Weber's Band Planning for Big Time Four Nights Next Week—Concerts and Dances

The annual fair given by Weber's band will take place at the Armory next week, opening Tuesday evening and continuing four nights. Unusually elaborate preparations are being made to entertain the crowds and many interesting stunts will be pulled off.

Several hundred turkeys and geese have been contracted for, ensuring enough and possibly some to spare. Flour and other household necessities will also be disposed of.

Weber's band will give concerts each night and on Thursday they will be augmented by members of the Bancroft and Amherst bands. Dancing parties are announced for Wednesday and Friday nights.

Lunches, soft drinks and ice cream will be sold at various booths. An admission fee of only ten cents will be collected at the door.

Show your appreciation for the many pleasurable evenings furnished by this band during the past summer and fall by patronizing the boys.

SELLS SPOILED CHICKENS

One of our meat market men was badly "stung" by a presumably honest farmer last week. The local dealer bought a bunch of dressed poultry, for which he paid $54 in good cash, and presumed that the chickens were in prime condition. They were sold at retail on Saturday and up to last evening he received 24 complaints of spoiled goods. To each of the purchasers the butcher man freely returned the amount paid and took his or her receipt therefor.

Within a day or two the farmer will be called upon to make good the loss, and it is also possible that criminal prosecution will follow.

PATRIOTISM MEANS SACRIFICE

So Says Bishop R. H. Weller in Address at Battle Creek—Three Sons in Service

The Rt. Rev. Reginald Heber Weller, bishop of Fond du Lac, preached to a large audience of soldiers and civilians at St. Thomas Episcopal church, Battle Creek, Michigan, Sunday forenoon, the trend of his sermon being that patriotism entails sacrifice.

"Patriotism is something more than singing the national anthems which are all very pleasant and melodious to hear," the bishop said. "Often it leads to the supreme sacrifice of the soldier lying on the battlefield looking up to heaven with unseeing eyes."

Bishop Weller left Fond du Lac recently to visit his son, Daniel, who is a first lieutenant at Camp Custer, Battle Creek. The bishop has three sons in the service of the country, Reginald and Grafton being at the Ft. Sheridan (Ill.) officers' training camp. Reginald's oldest son, spent some months in France, acting first as a newspaper correspondent, and subsequently as a member of the American hospital corps. On the eve of his country into the war he decided to take a yet more active part in the struggle, and his return to France will be as an officer of the line.

CONDITION CAUSES ALARM

Mrs. Sarah Chamberlain has been very ill at her home on McCulloch street for several weeks and there seems no chance for recovery. Her younger daughter, Miss Kittie, arrived here Saturday morning from Charleston, W. Va., where she had been engaged as demonstrator for a household article, and the older son, Don Chamberlain, is expected from New York city tonight. The aged lady is suffering with hardening of the arteries and a general breakdown because of old age.

CARS COME TOGETHER

Two automobiles were badly damaged, and their occupants had a narrow escape from serious injury last Saturday evening in a collision on Superior avenue, West Side. H. D. Boston, accompanied by Frank Roberts, Sr., was returning from a trip to Junction City and was driving slowly when, out of the heavy fog, there appeared another car, driven by Steve Grubbs, who was on his way to his home near the boom house, accompanied by another man and two young ladies. The front part of both cars were considerably smashed by the impact. Grubbs suffered a cut on one of his arms; his male companion was cut on the head, and all were shaken up and somewhat bruised.

ARREST BOY BURGLARS

Bert Timmerman, 22, and Allan Bartlett, 14, of Fond du Lac, were arrested in the Soo line yards here last Friday, on orders from the Fond du Lac authorities. The boys were turned over to Chief Nolan of Fond du Lac, who came here and accompanied them to that city. They are being held on the charge of burglary and Timmerman is alleged to have confessed. They are in jail in default of $1,500 bail. In their arrest the police of Fond du Lac believe they have the perpetrators of a series of store robberies there. They also suspected the pair of holding up and shooting David Cohen, a fruit merchant of that city, but they stoutly deny any knowledge of this crime. When arrested here they had two revolvers in their possession.

ULE GETS TRANSFER

Harold Ule, one of Portage county's selectmen sent to Camp Grant, Ill., has been transferred to the aviation corps, for admission to which he applied last spring. He also passed the examination before going to Rockford. He arrived home the last of the week and will remain until Thursday night or Friday, when he will go to Urbana, Ill., to begin his course at the government's school of aeronautics.

A WHIRLWIND DRIVE

Stevens Point Oversubscribes Quota for War Camp Community Recreation Fund

Stevens Point was asked for a $960 donation to the War Camp Community Recreation Fund; it contributed more than $1,100.

The big drive, probably the best organized and most effective fund raising campaign ever conducted in the county, was practically completed in one afternoon. M. M. Ames, the chairman, called his committeemen together for luncheon at noon Monday at the Palace of Sweets, assigned the "prospects" and gave final instructions.

Before 6 o'clock the returns were all in, listing more than $1,120 in cash contributions and pledges. The entire sum will be turned over to the Commission on Training Camp Activities, which has headquarters at Washington, D. C.

Those who made the drive were: J. E. Delzell, H. C. Snyder, M. M. Ames, Ed. Knope, T. L. McGlathlin, A. J. Beijer, C. W. Eagleburger, E. J. Waterman, Rev. G. M. Calhoun, F. S. Hyer, E. K. McDonald, Rev. James Blake, R. W. Capps, W. E. Fisher, L. A. Gordon, Rev. R. J. McLandress, H. C. Welty, O. A. Young, M. E. Bruce, George B. Nelson, Guy W. Rogers.

It was a general citizens' committee, except in the case of the last two named, who worked almost exclusively among the members of the Rotary club, each of the thirty members of which donated $10. The Masons and Shaverite lodge of Odd Fellows contributed as organizations.

Those who engineered the big drive haven't yet been able to find words to adequately express their appreciation of the spirit shown. It seemed that it was but a question of seeing people and there was hardly an instance where persuasion was necessary.

IN RAINBOW DIVISION

J. E. Hegg, 538 Main street, has a brother in the Rainbow Division of National Guardsmen, which arrived in France a couple of weeks ago. He is Elmer R. Hegg of Michigan City, N. D., who is a member of the band of the 151st artillery division. He was cashier of the Michigan City bank and resigned that responsible position to enlist in the 1st Minnesota field artillery as a member of the band. He is a clarinetist of some note and graduated from Luther college, Decorah, Iowa, several years ago. Although not then a student, in 1914 he was invited to join the Luther college band in its tour of Europe, and did so. He was at Liege, Belgium, just before the advancing German hosts battered their way into the city.

ARMY WANTS LENSES

People of the United States are asked to help the Signal Corps of the army get lenses enough for cameras for the fleet of observation airplanes now being built. The need is immediate and of great importance; the camera's lens is the eye of the army. German lenses can no longer be bought in the open market. The American government is now perfecting a substitute for the German "crown barium" glass and will later be able to meet the needs with special lenses of new and improved type. However, there is an immediate need of lenses and possessors of lenses are appealed to to enlist them in the service of the army. If you have a lens that you think would serve the purpose, notify the Photographic Division of the Signal Corps, U. S. A., Mills Building Annex, Washington, D. C. You can also secure further information from G. J. Ehart, director of the Vocational school, Stevens Point.

ATTEND NEENAH BANQUET

Five Stevens Pointers Are Guests at Prohibition Rally Last Night—R. L. Jones Speaks

Rev. G. M. Calhoun, C. E. Van Hecke, T. H. Hanna, D. J. Leahy and Dr. Geo. D. Whiteside were at Neenah last evening, going down to attend a banquet at the Valley Inn and listen to an address by Richard Lloyd Jones, editor of the Madison State Journal. The title of his subject was "The Americanism of a Referendum." With special reference to the national prohibition amendment which has passed the U. S. Senate and comes before the House of Representatives in December.

Specially invited guests were Congressmen Davidson, Browne and Clason. The large dining room was completely filled, upwards of two hundred attending, including many prominent manufacturers and professional men in the Fox River valley.

Mr. Jones delivered a powerful address on the prohibition question and also took occasion to "rap" Senator La Follette for his stand on certain matters of legislation.

ED. CORRIGAN KILLED

Prominent Farmer of Buena Vista Meets Instant Death Last Night—Funeral on Thursday

District Attorney Pfiffner received a telephone message at 9 o'clock last night from Dr. Crosby of Arnott, stating that the dead body of a man was found in a culvert on the Arnott-Buena Vista road, a few miles south of the first named station.

Mr. Pfiffner, Coroner Boston and John Schlice commandeered the J. J. Normington car and drove to the scene of the accident, finding that the dead man was Edward Corrigan, one of the best known farmers in Buena Vista township.

Dr. Crosby, who had examined the body, found the right hip smashed, the chest crushed in and a contusion on the head. Death was probably caused from suffocation.

The story of the accident and events leading thereto, as told the district attorney, are substantially as follows:

Mr. Corrigan and a neighbor, Frank Meronk, drove to Arnott early yesterday in a lumber wagon to which was hitched a horse owned by Corrigan and another owned by Meronk. They remained at that station until 6:30 last evening, in the meantime the team being tied to a post in front of one of the business places. The horses had become chilled from their long wait and the owners evidently desired to warm them up quickly by starting out on a gallop, which fast pace they kept up until they came to an abrupt stop.

On the macadam road near the Adams farm is a deep culvert, estimated at eight feet, into which the right hand horse, owned by Corrigan, plunged, upsetting the wagon and throwing both men out. The harness was torn apart, enabling Meronk's animal to remain on the highway above.

Mr. Adams heard the crash from his home and ran to the scene, where he was joined a moment later by Mr. Lorbiecki, who was traveling over the road by auto. Meronk did not tell them that he had a companion but took hold of his horse's bridle and started him down the deep gulley. Both men were thrown to the ground and when other assistance arrived it was rolled over and led to the higher ground. Not until this time did the rescuers discover the form of a man, who was easily recognized as Mr. Corrigan. Dr. Crosby, who was summoned by telephone, found that he had been killed almost instantly. Neither horse was hurt.

The body was brought to Boston's undertaking parlors and prepared for burial, and today was taken to the Corrigan home in Buena Vista. Funeral services will be held at the Lanark church Thursday morning.

Edward Corrigan was born in Stevens Point 55 years ago and lived here almost continuously until 1876. Since that time he operated the old homestead in Buena Vista, being assisted by a younger brother, William. His father, Jas. Corrigan, died many years ago, and his mother passed away a year ago last January. For nearly two years the brothers maintained bachelor quarters.

Other surviving relatives are two brothers, Jas. E. Corrigan, a leading merchant at Hamilton, Texas, and Geo. Corrigan of Long Beach, Cal., and four sisters, Mrs. John R. Means, Mrs. John J. Ryan and Mrs. Thos. J. Brown of this city and Mrs. John Hopkins of Ione, Wash.

POLICE STOP PICKETING

Among thirty-one women's suffrage pickets taken into custody at Washington Monday, when they staged a demonstration in front of the White House at Washington, was Miss Cora Week of New York city, sister of N. A. Week, J. A. Week and Miss Martha Week of this city. The women practically all of whom took part in a similar demonstration last Saturday and were similarly dealt with, marched from their headquarters at the White House, where, with banners flying, they formed a line from gate to gate. Many prominent women from various states were among them and all were released on bail furnished by Miss Mary Ingham of Philadelphia.

FIRE TRUCK ARRIVES

Stevens Point's motor driven fire truck, ordered early in the summer from the American La France Fire Engine Co. of Elmira, N. Y., arrived in the city last Friday and was unloaded that afternoon. An expert from the factory arrived the same day and has since been demonstrating the machine and instructing members of the fire department in its operation. The truck is painted a bright red and, besides the usual equipment, including ladders, carries a chemical tank and hose and a booster pump. It has shown up remarkably well under tests. Monday afternoon, with aldermen and other officials on board, it was run from engine house No. 1 to the corner of Main and Fremont streets, in front of the Normal, in two minutes flat, this time including that devoted to attaching the hose to a hydrant and turning on the water.

NINETEEN AT FARM

H. J. Kankrud, superintendent of the county farm at Amherst Junction, greeted friends in town yesterday. Mr. Kankrud is now caring for a total of 19 county charges, who are well provided for at this almost ideal institution.

JACKSON MILLING CO
ON WAR TIME BASIS

Stevens Point Flour Mill Is One of Nation's Patriotic Concerns Regulating Industry

The co-ordination of business in the United States for the successful prosecution of the war has an excellent local illustration in the Jackson Milling Co., which is now and has been for several weeks under administrative supervision of the government. After the government assumed control of the wheat supply, practically all of the mills with a daily capacity of more than 100 barrels voluntarily signed an agreement to conduct their plants in conformity with the rules and regulations promulgated by the milling division of the federal food administration. On Nov. 1 the smaller mills were brought into the agreement, so that now the entire milling industry is virtually in control of the government.

The mills, in their agreement, bound themselves to comply with the federal regulations for the duration of the war and each has been made a member of the food administration. Millers who receive the certificate of membership possess a handsome souvenir of war-time milling, as well as an evidence that they are engaged in patriotic service and loyally conforming to the requirements of the government.

The Jackson Milling Co. has a capacity of 225 barrels each 24 hours, but the federal requirements provide that, owing to the shortage in the wheat supply, it cannot operate more than 90% of regular time. It must also depend upon the government for its wheat supply, and its share of wheat is determined on the basis of a three-year consumption, covering the years 1913, 1914 and 1915. Thus, if the wheat supply available is but 75% of the demand, the Jackson Milling Co., and every other mill in the agreement, is able to procure but 75% of the amount its requisition calls for. In making the requisition, which is forwarded to the Chicago milling district headquarters, the company asks for a wheat shipment that is 90% of the amount the three-year average would allow for a corresponding period. The government then makes shipments direct, but milling companies have the privilege of engaging the services of a commission man to inspect the wheat and see that it conforms to the needs of the individual mill. The Jackson Milling Co.'s wheat comes from Minneapolis.

While the government control does not, at present at least, permit mills to operate at full time, it does guarantee each mill its proportionate share of the supply and eliminates speculation in the buying and selling of wheat. The established price of wheat, as set by the government, is $2.20, to the producer. The cost to the Jackson Milling Co., delivered in this city, is $2.32, which allows 1% for administration fees.

The government not only controls the wheat supply, but it also limits the millers' profits. No mill is allowed more than 25 cents a barrel profit, which means that the mill makes but 6 1/2 cents on the common 98-pound sack. It is also stipulated that interest on investment cannot be charged against expenses. The maximum profit on a ton of feed is set at 50 cents. After December 1 the sale of small packages of flour is prohibited, the mills being instructed not to pack flour in packages of less than a standard 24 1/2 pound capacity. This is done to facilitate the economical handling of the product.

The government, in a recent bulletin, said, "No profit in addition to the 25 cents per barrel can be made on packages. A good purchase of sacks merely enables the miller to quote lower and get the business." No mill is permitted to take orders in excess of its output for 30 days in advance and each must make a daily, weekly and monthly report covering every phase of the business.

Asked by The Gazette what effect the government regulation of mills has had on the flour market, Carl F. Haertel, manager of the Jackson Milling Co., said that in his opinion, had speculation in wheat not been eliminated, the retail price of flour today would be $23 to $25 a barrel. This company manufactures Gold Crown flour, which is a recognized standard, and the retail price of this is now $11.70. Rosebud and Big Eye, two of the company's cheaper brands, sell at $11.30 and $10.90, respectively. These prices are practically established for some time to come, Mr. Haertel said, unless the price of feed rises or falls sufficiently to warrant a change in flour quotations.

The Jackson Milling Co., owing to the curtailed wheat supply, was able to operate its wheat department but 29 1/2 hours during the 27 working days in October. The balance of the plant, however, has been run on full time.

For a time during the month of October the mills were allowed to operate at no more than 60% of capacity. The lifting of this restriction was due to the fact that arrangements have been made to import sufficient wheat from Canada to supply the needs of mills on this side of the line. The demand for flour so far exceeds the supply now that many mills have taken salesmen off regular territory. Mills could readily sell many times their output, so that it is a question of making equitable distribution.

While the new arrangement entails some hardships, so far as millers are concerned, they have, almost without exception, patriotically supported it in every way possible. The mills at least know that they are all on the same basis and no discrimination is being shown. The fact that speculation has been done away with is approved by all millers, who are satisfied with a reasonable profit on their products.

Reports from some of the great wheat producing states lead to the belief that 1918 will see a record average planted to wheat. The fact that farmers have been so busy with their fall work, utilizing every minute in preparation for the next year crop, is given as one reason for the shortage in supply that has prevailed for several weeks.

SENIORS ARE CHAMPS

The Senior class of the local High school recently challenged the underclass men to play for the football championship of the school. The game was played last Thursday evening and resulted in a victory for the upper class. The score was 6 to 2. Bannach scored the only touchdown by running through the entire opposing team. The game was refereed by Clyde Hunting.

GLIMPSES INTO PAST

Happenings Mentioned In The Gazette Twenty-Five and Ten Years Ago This Week

Twenty-Five Years Ago Nov. 16, 1892

Peter Y. Bradt and Miss Genevieve W. Tascher were married on Wednesday, October 26th, at Schenectady, N. Y.

Edwin O. Beggs, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Beggs of Almond, was killed in a runaway accident, near Plover, Saturday afternoon.

Miss Maggie Ryan, a young lady who was born and reared in the town of Stockton, was elected superintendent of schools of Ashland county last week.

J. R. Congdon was called to Delavan last Thursday morning by a telegram announcing the serious illness of his aged father, who died at about midnight on Thursday, soon after the arrival of his son.

On Saturday evening, Nov. 26th, Lieut. Edward F. McGlachlin of the 5th U. S. Artillery, will be married to Miss Louise Harrison Chew, the ceremony to take place at the Church of the Epiphany, Washington, D. C.

At St. Martin's church, in the town of Sharon, Tuesday forenoon, Henry Schliesmann and Miss Margaret Miller were made man and wife, Rev. Father Grabowski officiating. The groomsmen were Fred A. Krembs of this city and Alois Miller, a brother of the bride, and Misses Rosa Miller and Mary Eiden acted as bridesmaids.

Sixteen young men enrolled their names last evening as members of the new military company soon to be formed in Stevens Point, but the number in attendance at the meeting was not sufficient to form an organization, thirty being required. Another meeting will be held at the Loberg Hall, next Sunday afternoon, when it is hoped there will be a large attendance.

Ten Years Ago Nov. 13, 1907

Someone attempted to enter the residence of Hiram Lamphere last Saturday night, but being discovered by Miss Nellie Glines Lamphere, was frightened away.

William H. Davidson and Miss Anna Oxholm will be married tomorrow evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Fred Oxholm, on Strongs avenue, by Rev. John A. Stemen.

Eugene L. Lemma was called to Schofield last Saturday by the death of his father, Turnfield Lemma, who was burned to death when the house in which he resided was destroyed by fire.

A distressing fatality took place last Saturday evening when Charles Schultz choked to death. The sad accident happened at the home of his sister, Mrs. Geo. Brill, on 5th avenue. Mr. Schultz was 37 years of age. His wife and four children survive. He also leaves three sisters, Mrs. Geo. Brill and Mrs. Richard Gross of this city and Mrs. Julian King of Whiting.

OPERATION AT EAU CLAIRE

John Siebert, machinetender in the Dells Paper & Pulp Co. mill at Eau Claire, came home last Friday night to visit his family on N. Third street and recover from a surgical operation performed upon him that day. He had his tonsils removed and other throat troubles adjusted. Rather than stay at the hospital in that city he boarded the night train for home and is now improving slowly.

JOSEPH GLINSKI, JR.

Lifelong Resident of Stevens Point Dies at Oshkosh—Buried Here Saturday

Joseph Glinski, Jr., a lifelong resident of Stevens Point and member of a prominent north side family, died at the hospital at Oshkosh at 6:30 o'clock last Thursday morning.

The body was brought to Stevens Point Friday and the funeral held from the home of his father, 518 N. First street, Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. Interment followed in St. Peter's cemetery.

The deceased was born in this city March 11, 1882. He attended the public schools, including the High school, and then took a course at the Stevens Point business college. Later he became associated with his father, proprietor of one of the city's oldest tailoring establishments, and continued in that business until about six months before his death. His death was the result of a general breakdown and stomach trouble, which three months of hospital treatment failed to overcome.

Mr. Glinski is survived by his father, three brothers and four sisters: John, Delos, Chester, Mrs. S. W. Parowski, Mrs. G. W. Andrae and the Misses Verona and Evelyn. All reside in Stevens Point except Mrs. Parowski, who lives in Chicago.

Mrs. Parowski and son, Stanley, of Chicago, and Joseph Mattice of Milwaukee were those from away who attended the funeral.

The deceased was a member of the Polish National Alliance.

COLLECTING BIG FUND

E. P. Trautmann of This City At Head of Movement of Game Protective Association

As secretary and treasurer of the Wisconsin Game Protective association, E. P. Trautmann of this city is in charge of the collection of a fund of $5,000, which it is proposed to use to defray the cost of a field secretary in Wisconsin to create local interest, organize new local associations and organize the state in behalf of fish and game protection and legislation toward that end.

Mr. Trautmann last Friday received the first contribution to the fund, a check for $50 from the American Game Protective association of New York. The secretary of the National Association of Audubon Societies, with headquarters in New York, has pledged himself individually to add $50 to every $500 raised. The Milwaukee club will raise 20% of the fund and the Stevens Point club has been asked to contribute $75.

It is the aim of the state association, after it is fully organized on a state-wide basis, to raise a fund of $100,000, the income from which will be used to pay the expense of protecting the wild life of Wisconsin.

GONE TO STERLING

Jos. A. Walter boarded Friday night's train for Sterling, Ill., where he has accepted a position with the Sterling Floral Co. For the past four and one-half years Joe was an assistant in W. E. Macklin's greenhouse here and was a valued employee. The Illinois position carries with it a larger salary and opportunity to get many new ideas in this profession.

DEATH AT EAGLE RIVER

Mrs. Cora Richards, widow of the late Chas. Richards, publisher of the Eagle River Review, died at her home on Saturday, Nov. 3rd, and funeral services were held at the Eagle River Congregational church on Tuesday afternoon of last week. Mrs. Richards was a former resident of Packwaukee, moving north five years ago. One of her daughters, Miss Pearl Richards, graduated from the Stevens Point Normal in 1914 and now teaches at Racine; another daughter, Mary, teaches at Minneapolis, and the son, Verne, is in charge of the Review. The deceased lady enjoyed a considerable local acquaintance. Her husband passed away last May.

CAULEY'S NEW BUNGALOW

Handsome Home Being Completed at Custer—Many Improvements Made at That Station

Fred M. Playman's crew of expert carpenters are now putting the finishing touches on a one and one-half story bungalow being built for Wm. Cauley, Jr., and located just north of his father's home at Custer. The new building contains nine rooms, has modern conveniences and is a handsome structure.

In this connection it is interesting to note that a wonderful improvement has taken place at Custer within the past few years, many substantial homes and business buildings now greeting the eye and there is a decided air of thrift and prosperity in that locality. Among the new structures is a group of solid brick warehouses erected by potato shippers.

AN ORDINANCE

An ordinance relating to fires and establishing fire limits.

Section 1. Section 156 of an ordinance entitled, "An ordinance relating to fires and establishing fire limits" is hereby repealed and in lieu thereof the following section shall be substituted so that said section of said ordinance shall read as follows, to-wit:

Section 156. For the purpose of protecting the city of Stevens Point from fire or loss of property by fire, the fire limits in said city shall be bounded and fixed as follows, to-wit: Commencing on the east bank of the Wisconsin river at low water mark at a point on said low water mark 165 feet south of the center line of Clark street; thence east from said point on a line to a point where said line intersects the center line of West Ellis street; thence south, south-easterly and east on the center line of West Ellis street to the intersection of the center line of Ellis street and Strongs avenue; thence east on the center line of Ellis Street to a point south of a line running north and south between lots twelve (12) and thirteen (13) of block twenty-eight (28) original town of Stevens Point; thence north on said line between lots four (4) and five (5), twelve (12) and thirteen (13) of block twenty-eight (28) and between lots four (4) and five (5), fourteen (14) and fifteen (15), of block twenty-nine (29) of the original plat of the town of Stevens Point to a point where said line intersects with the center line of Main street; thence West on Main street to the intersection of the center lines of Union street and Main street; thence north on the center line of Union street to the intersection of Normal avenue and Union street; thence West on Normal avenue to the intersection of the center line of First street and Normal avenue; thence north on the center line of First street to a point on the bank of a tributary of the Wisconsin river known as the slough; thence along the bank of said slough at low water mark to the Wisconsin river; thence down the Wisconsin river on the east bank thereof at low water mark to the place of beginning.

Section 2. All ordinances and parts of ordinances conflicting herewith are hereby revoked and repealed.

Section 3. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication.

Adopted Nov. 6th, 1917.
Approved Nov. 9th, 1917.
F. A. Walters, Mayor.
Attest: W. L. Bronson, City Clerk.

OPERATED ON AT ROCHESTER

W. J. Delaney Will Have Surgical Work Done at Minnesota Hospital

W. J. Delaney, former register of deeds, who has spent the past season on his farm in the town of Lanark, has finished his work and visited over the week end at his home in this city.
Mr. Delaney boarded Monday night's train for Rochester, Minn., where he will undergo a surgical operation at Mayo hospital. For the past fifteen years or more a tumor has been forming on the upper part of his back, and although it caused him but little physical inconvenience, it is sapping his strength and must be removed. The gentleman hopes to be able to return here in a couple of weeks.

The Delaney farm produced a fairly good crop of potatoes this year and the tubers are now stored in a warehouse at Amherst.

Chicago belonged to Spain once. It was for a few months in 1783, when an expedition from St. Louis occupied the site of Fort Dearborn. Spain's colonial empire then extended from the Great Lakes to Cape Horn.

When Benjamin Franklin started a newspaper in Philadelphia he was warned that it would fail because, his friends told him, the field was overcrowded. There were already two newspapers in America!

INDIAN GIRL TO FRANCE

Mrs. Howard Kellogg, who was married in Stevens Point, will Be Army Nurse

According to dispatches from the east, Mrs. Howard Kellogg, a full-blooded Oneida Indian, is among the army nurses who will shortly be sent to France.

Mrs. Kellogg's maiden name was Miss Minnie Cornelius and her marriage took place at the Presbyterian Manse in Stevens Point a few years ago. Rev. John A. Stemen reading the service. Mrs. Kellogg is highly educated. She was graduated from Grafton Hall, Fond du Lac, with honors. Later she pursued a classical course in an eastern university and a law course at Leland Stanford University, in California. She has made a number of trips to England and France, where she attracted considerable attention as an interpreter of Indian dances. She has also been interested in settlement work in larger cities and is the author of a number of articles.

Mrs. Kellogg traces her ancestry to the great chiefs of the Oneida nation.

MOSINEE PIONEER DIES

The Mosinee Times of last week announced the death, on Friday, Nov.
2, of Frank Lucian De Mers, one of the pioneer residents of that place and a man who was personally acquainted with many of the older residents of Stevens Point. Mr. De Mers died quite suddenly, the result of heart failure and infirmities incident to old age. He was nearly 83 years of age and was born in St. John's, Canada. Coming to Mosinee in the spring of 1856, he took employment with Joseph Dessert, one of the big timber operators of those days. Some years later he engaged in the mercantile business and still later engaged in farming near Halder. He returned to Mosinee shortly afterward, however, and up to the time of his death was engaged in the store business there. Mr. De Mers' wife, who survives him, was Miss Adelia Moyer of Stockton, this county. Three children survive.

Mrs. Barton (to small daughter saying prayers)—"A little louder, dear. I can't hear."
Daughter—"Yes" but I'm not speaking to you."—New York Times.

loyal vote, and Hyman won by the biggest plurality ever accorded a majority candidate in New York. If any doubt that Hyman stood for Americanism, his majority pledge immediately after election is sufficient to allay any doubts.

The truth of the matter is that Hyman has gained the support of the majority of the voters in the city of New York. This is a fact which cannot be denied.

A number of German-Americans have been arrested in the city of New York. They are charged with having been active in the German-American cause.

The German-American cause is a cause which is being actively supported by a number of German-Americans in the city of New York.

The Sugar Situation

The federal food administration has designated a "sugarless day" but it is urging economy in the use of this most important staple and reducing the amount apportioned to some of the large consumers, notably the candy manufacturers.

The "sweet tooth" is no longer a popular diversion, from the standpoint of patriotism, and all waste should be eliminated.

LaFollette Has Helped

"The Maximalists can no more control Russia than the Industrial Workers of the World can control the United States." That is the opinion of Charles Edward Russell, member of the recent Root commission to Russia, as expressed in an interview. In an address at Des Moines Mr. Russell declared that the words of Senators LaFollette, Gronna and Stone have furnished food for German propaganda that has been flashed around the world and instilled as a poison into the hearts of the Russians until it has knocked all the punch out of their army.

War Not Popular?

"No, this isn't a popular war in the sense that anybody is glad of it and having a good time about it," says The Minneapolis Tribune. "But it is, when compared with either of the great wars of our history, less unpopular than either. There is less opposition, less disturbance. Not even the draft feature has developed any opposition comparable with that encountered when men were drafted for the Union army. Perhaps one reason is the government's painstaking effort this time to be entirely fair and impartial in calling men to the colors. Without doubt another is a growing conviction that the peace and security of our country depends upon the overthrow of Prussian militarism and that the easiest way to bring it about is in conjunction with Great Britain, France and Italy, rather than, as some very astute individuals would have us do, wait till we have to tackle the job single-handed and alone, on our own side of the Atlantic."

Some Kind Words

Stevens Point Journal: The Gazette is now fully settled in its new home at 114 North Third street, in the handsome and substantial building erected this year for the exclusive use of the paper by its proprietor, Mrs. E. D. Glennon.

The building is of brick and stone with semi-basement under the whole structure, constituting practically another floor, and one story above. In front on the main floor are the offices and editorial rooms and in the rear a large workroom in which a great deal of new machinery and equipment have been placed. The building is sanitary, well lighted and well heated and spick and span and modern throughout.

The erection of this fine new property is a tribute to the enterprise and prosperity of our contemporary, which since its founding in 1878 by E. D. Glennon has been a strong force in this community. For 25 years in its old office the Gazette has made friends and has earned success. The Journal congratulates its contemporary upon the happy occasion of moving into and settling in its new home and sincerely hopes that its success may continue with the coming years.

The Socialist Vote

It has been frequently said that the war is making Socialists, and, on the surface, it would seem that there is some truth in the remark, judging from the elections held in various states last week.

The Socialist candidate for mayor of New York, Morris Hillquit, polled a vote that was 340% greater than any previous candidate of his party. In Cleveland, Chicago and other cities the party also made big gains.

But what factors contributed to the increase? That is the question that must be answered before the Socialist party can justly claim any glory for its showing. In New York the campaign, as everybody knows, found Hillquit on the one side denouncing the war and the policies of the Wilson administration, and the other three candidates championing straight Americanism. Hillquit appealed to the pro-German and pacifist vote, and the result showed, got both. Hyman and Mitchell, the two leading candidates against him, polled the

Big Meeting and Fine Display Mark Second Annual Potato Growers' Convention

Portage county growers and their friends gathered at the Stevens Point hotel for the second annual potato growers' convention. The convention was held on Tuesday and Wednesday last.

The meeting was a success in every respect. A large number of growers and their friends were present. A fine display of potatoes was shown.

USE HOME MADE FLOUR

Farmers in Eastern Part of County Helping Nation and Reducing Cost of Living

Farmers of the eastern part of the county are rendering a patriotic service and helping to reduce the cost of living by the use of home made whole wheat flour. A considerable amount of wheat is being raised in this county and a large part of it is being ground on the farm.

This practice not only saves the expense of shipping wheat to the mill and back, but it also saves the expense of shipping flour to the consumer.

GREETED OLD FRIENDS

Rev. J. A. Stemen, who came from Ripon to officiate at the funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth McPhail last Tuesday afternoon, remained in the city until Thursday afternoon, when he departed for his home. While here Mr. Stemen called upon many of his old Stevens Point friends.

Mr. Stemen's daughter, Miss Helen, is director of physical training among the girls of one of Philadelphia's large high schools and has recently been made supervisor of this branch of school work in other schools of the city. His son, Russell, is doing advanced work in chemistry and physics at Ripon college. Miss Sarah Rounds, sister of the late Mrs. Stemen, will continue to make her home with the family.

Man More Liquid Than Solid.

Every fiber and every cell that enters into the formation of a living body is bathed in moisture, by which means alone these ultimate elements are kept alive and are enabled to carry out their duties. Even the bones, which appear to be the most solid of all, owe more than half their weight to the presence of fluid. That our bodies contain a large amount of fluid is proved in a striking manner by the blisters which rise after the infliction of a burn. Water, in fact, plays a very important part in the human anatomy, for it is through its agency that the vital processes of digestion, absorption and the excretion of waste products are carried out. To reduce the whole matter to figures and taking 154 pounds to be the total weight of an average full grown man, it is said that water alone accounts for 109 pounds of the whole.

BOARDMAN IN COMMAND

Two Wisconsin Regiments at Waco, Texas, Have Been Assigned to The 64th Brigade

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 12—Copies of the formal order changing the form of the Wisconsin units, which were mustered in as National guard volunteers, have been received from Waco, Texas. The Wisconsin regiments are the 120th and the 128th and they have been assigned to the brigade commanded by Gen. Charles R. Boardman, the Sixty-fourth.

The reorganization has been made necessary by the enlargement of the army units but the integrity of the state troops is being maintained, as far as possible, by transferring companies from the same state from their old regimental organization into the new as intact companies. All regimental officers are being cared for in new assignments in the same rank as their commissions in the National guard. The reorganization of the regimental units has been effected and enlisted men are now all members of the new units.

ANOTHER PIONEER GONE

Mrs. John Dorsha, One of County's Oldest Residents, Answers Final Summons Last Sunday

Mrs. John Dorsha, one of the very oldest residents of Portage county and a lady who had countless friends, died at the old homestead in Buena Vista last Sunday evening and was buried from the Buena Vista Catholic church at 10 o'clock this morning.

Mrs. Dorsha, who was about 85 years of age, had been a long time sufferer with rheumatism, but the immediate cause of her death was a stroke of paralysis which affected her entire side and rendered her helpless for many weeks.

Her husband died eight or ten years ago, since which time the venerable lady lived with one of her sons, Charles, who conducts the old farm.

Other children surviving are three sons, Peter, Jacob and Eugene, all of whom live in Buena Vista, and four daughters, Mrs. Martin Gilman of Marathon City, Mrs. Fred Rice of Pine Grove, Mrs. John W. Burns of Almond and Mrs. Kate Hanke of North Dakota.

To the sons and daughters the sympathy of the community is extended in the loss of a kind and indulgent mother.

- POTTED ON TONGUE.—Chop one pound of cooked tongue very fine and put it in a bowl with six tablespoonsful of drippings or fat from the tongue, a teaspoonful of salt, a tea spoonful of mushroom ketchup, one-half teaspoonful of pepper, a pinch of powdered mace and a few grains of red pepper. Rub the mixture after it has been well pounded through a sieve Press into small pots, cover with clarified butter or lard and keep in a cool place.
- Potted Beef.—Cut three pounds of lean beef into four or five pieces, season well with salt, pepper and powdered mace. Divide the pieces into jars with a cupful of butter, cover and bake for three hours. Put the meat into a bowl with the fat from the gravy, four tablespoonsful of sweet butter adding a little at a time, and beat until it is a fine paste. Put it into little jars. When quite cold and stiff pour over clarified butter.
- Potted Ham and Veal.—Potted ham and veal can be made from the remains of a real and ham pie, a dish of cooked veal or a joint of roast veal. Very fresh seasoning will be required, but if roast or fried veal is used a little chopped parsley, grated lemon rind with red or black pepper gives the paste a good flavor. Pound the meat or pass it through a food chopper, add the seasonings, a very little gravy and divide into small jars or pots. Do not add too much gravy, as most meat turns sour very quickly.
- Potted Mackerel.—Wash and clean four mackerel, cutting off the heads, tails and fins and scraping the skin well with a knife. Dry them in a cloth, then split them open and remove all the bones. Cut each mackerel in two lengthwise. Put a tablespoonful of flour, a teaspoonful of salt, one-half teaspoonful of pepper, one fourth teaspoonful of powdered mace on to a plate and mix all well together. Dip each piece of mackerel into this and roll them up from the thick end toward the tail. Pack them into a greased baking dish or fireproof dish, arranging them in two layers if necessary. Then pour in equal quantities of brown vinegar and water, enough to half fill the dish. Put in one bay leaf, four cloves and twelve whole white peppers; place pieces of butter here and there over the top and bake in a moderate oven for one hour. Set aside to cool. Serve as many pieces of fish as will be required at one time on a platter, pour over some of the liquid and garnish with parsley.

FACTORY MAY COME

Concerning Owning Patent and Manufacturing Rights of Tractor Consider This City

Negotiations carried on for several weeks may result in the location of a new manufacturing industry in Stevens Point.

The Tienam Tractor Co. of Milwaukee, owners of the patent and manufacturing rights of the "Tienam All-Purpose Tractor," are anxious to establish a factory here, providing arrangements can be made. The company does not ask a bonus, but is desirous of placing some of its stock locally. Officers of the company have made several visits to the city and have been entertained by the Civic & Commerce Association. They are very pleased with the city's advantages. C. A. Gulikson of this city, a director of the company, and it was largely on his account that Stevens Point was considered as a location.

The concern has five demonstration machines, one of which is now here and was seen in operation by many local people the last of the week on the Eichorst farm on the Jordan road. The tractor is a popular size, of 12-24 horsepower, and has several exclusive features. A. J. Tienam of Milwaukee and Ed. Anderson of Fond du Lac, members of the company, are still in the city and it is hoped to decide something definite in the near future.

Various Ways of Using Cornmeal in the Diet

Include cornmeal in the diet and learn to like it. The qualities of cornmeal have been underestimated, in the opinion of Mrs. Mary P. Van Zile, dean of the division of home economics in the Kansas State Agricultural college.

Boiled cornmeal is now cheap as compared with other cereals. It costs about half as much as wheat flour, only a third as much as rolled oats and a fourth as much as rolled wheat.

Cornmeal has a high food value. Although the boiled meal does not supply so much tissue building material as wheat flour, it does supply more starch and fat. The unboiled cornmeal, which is of good flavor and is preferred by many, has more tissue building material as well as more starch and fat than the wheat flour.

For a long time pellagra was supposed to be contracted through eating cornmeal. Scientific investigation has proved that this is false, and there is no danger from eating ordinary quantities.

Cornmeal can be used successfully in a variety of ways. As a breakfast cereal, fried mush, corn bread or as corn griddlecakes it is a success from a nutritive as well as an economic standpoint. A satisfactory bread may be made by using one-half wheat flour and one-half cornmeal.

A Reason For Some of the Automobile Accidents at Night.

Frequently when there is an accident, where the automobile runs off the road, hits an obstruction or is upset, the driver or some other occupant of the car or the reporter says that "the steering gear gave way." Yet it is safe to venture that it is not the real reason for the accident. What often happens is that the driver goes to sleep.

In a report of an accident some time ago the driver frankly said he went to sleep and the next thing he knew he was under the car, which was thrown against an abutment. The soporific effect of driving an auto at night for several hours is really responsible for more accidents than defective construction. The constant vibration of the steering wheel, the continuous noise of the machine and the drone of the wind have the same effect as does the buzz of an electric fan on most folk.

Before the driver realizes it he is getting drowsy. The wheel is held more and more loosely. Gradually the car takes the line of least resistance, aided by the slackening (but not totally abandoned) control of the driver. The next thing he knows he is off the road. Sometimes the car overturns. Sometimes the driver escapes, together with the occupants of the car. Oftentimes the dereliction results in injury or death.

If more drivers realized the danger of not keeping awake there would be fewer accidents. At least this is the opinion of experienced drivers.—Chicago Journal

LOOKING FORWARD

The Office of Extension Work in the North and West, United States Department of Agriculture, urges that the matters discussed below have immediate attention.

Don't Sell the Family Cow

This might appear to many to be a good time to sell the family cow or the family dairy herd, because prices for cows are high and it is easy to sell; but suppose you do sell? What is gained? Prices of milk and butter are high—seem higher when you buy than when you sell. Perhaps we are crossing the "stream" referred to by Abraham Lincoln when he advised against swapping horses while crossing a stream. In any case, will it not be better if the family cow and the family dairy are kept by those who know how to make them most productive?

Next Year's Garden

Begin to prepare your home garden this fall by supplying the soil with humus (decaying vegetable material and fertilizers.) Stable manure may be spread upon the surface and either plowed or spaded under.

In many parts of the country rye may be sowed yet this fall to be plowed or spaded under in the spring. Use about half a pound to one pound of seed to the square rod. The ground should first be cleared of weeds and crop refuse; but do not wait until all the crops are off. As soon as any part of the garden is cleared, however small the space, sow rye upon it at once. This may be continued until the whole garden is sowed, even though the last vegetable crops come off quite late in the fall, as rye will germinate at temperature only slightly above the freezing point. If the soil is loose, the rye may be scattered over the surface and covered with a garden rake. If the soil is hard it should first be hoed or cultivated 2 or 3 inches deep, as the ideal seed bed for rye is compact beneath and loose at the surface.

The advantages of sowing rye are: (1) It protects the soil from washing; (2) it retains nitrogenous plant-food material which might otherwise escape into the air during the fall and winter; (3) when turned under in the spring, it furnishes humus to the soil.

Save the leaves this fall. They are valuable as sources of humus and plant food. If burned, even though the ashes are saved, all of the humus is lost and much of the fertilizing value. They may be mixed with soil and a little lime and left in a pile to decay, or some may be spread upon the surface of the soil and spaded under at once. They are especially valuable for loosening heavy clay soils. Coal ashes are useful for the same purpose, though they have very little fertilizing value.

The Need for Seed Corn

Farmers and farm boys can use the corn-gathering and corn-husking season to good advantage by making it the time for selecting and storing a double portion of choice seed ears. Many counties of North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, and a few other corn-growing States will have a limited supply of good seed corn because of severe frosts. This lack must be supplied by more fortunate neighboring States, and the lack can be supplied with good corn at a good profit if care is taken in gathering and husking in the States and sections where the untimely freeze did little or no damage. And there can be no better time than now for selecting high-grade seed corn for next year's crop. The situation will justify saving seed corn as a patriotic duty, and it will more than justify saving it for the high price good seed may be expected to bring next spring. Save seed corn! Save more seed corn!

The Woodchopper's Chance

"Woodman, spare that tree!" was the burden of a popular poem of years ago. A new word may be substituted for the old: "Woodman, use that tree!" so that the coal supply may be used to better advantage. Use the tree for your own fuel; use it for cordwood to supply your neighbors' fires; at a profit to yourself; at the same time releasing for other use the freight car that would otherwise have to be used in hauling coal for your neighbors. Of course no sensible person advises the unthinkable cutting of trees that should be saved for their beauty or to grow until they are ripe for harvest. The axe which will chop down and up in order to make fuel for himself and others, all the while keeping in mind conserving the wood lot or forest for growth and greater usefulness next year and other years.

Improved Potato-Storage Facilities

In many of the potato-growing sections there will be a congestion of potatoes at harvesting time, because of the heavy yield and because of a lack of freight-handling facilities by the railroads. This will make it necessary to provide means for caring for this crop until the market can absorb it. Many county agents are recommending that farmers with a large acreage construct temporary storage bins on their farms and also are recommending that community storage houses be constructed at convenient points for which it is not profitable to construct individual storage pits. County agents in many of these counties are doing excellent service by assisting farmers and communities in planning storage warehouses according to plans furnished by the United States Department of Agriculture or by the Agricultural College in the State in which they work.

Save Good Yearling Hens

Among farmers generally it is the common practice to sell the hens that are past a year old for poultry when they stop laying in the fall. Under the usual conditions this is good policy, for as a rule only about half of the flock lay well enough the second year to be profitable, and the farmer who has pullets enough to replace all his old hens sees no advantage in keeping any of them over.

This year, however, those patriotic farmers who desire to do their part to increase the poultry and egg supplies will find it desirable to retain a considerable proportion of the yearling hens. Farmers in the corn belt especially will find it to their interest to hold all the good yearling hens they have, making such addition to their poultry house equipment as may be necessary to properly accommodate both pullets and hens. Overcrowding must be avoided, as neither pullets nor hens will do their best.

In selecting hens to keep over, preference should be given to those that molt in September or later, for they are—as a rule—the most persistent layers. Such hens may not be at this time the best looking in the flock. They are likely to be rough in plumage with somewhat shriveled combs and pale colored legs. These things, however, are merely incidental to the molting and molting period.

Hens that appear in prime condition at this time are those that molted in the summer because they stopped laying early. The exceptions which it may be desirable to retain are hens which reared broods in early summer and molted while running with the chicks.

EARTH'S LABORS ENDED

Mrs. Hastings McGill of McDill, Old and Respected Resident of County, Is Dead

A life well spent and lived to bring joy and contentment to others was closed last Friday evening when Mrs. Hastings McGill passed away at her home at McDill at 8 o'clock. Although she had been in poor health for the past couple of years, at no time had she been confined to her bed, and the end came peacefully as she was preparing to retire, with the assistance of her daughter, Mrs. Harvey Willard. The cause of her death was heart trouble.

When only 12 years of age Milley Ellen Scott came to McDill from Stoughton, Mass., where she was born June 16, 1853. She accompanied her parents and other members of the family here and had been a continuous resident of our neighboring community ever since, the old Scott farm being only about a mile distant from the present McGill homestead. Milley Scott was married to Hastings McGill at McDill, Oct. 16, 1872. She was one of a family of eight children and was the last survivor, her parents having also passed away some years ago and are buried in the McDill cemetery. One brother, Dr. Wm. F. Scott, died at his home in Port Washington a year ago, and a sister, Mrs. Harvey Judd, passed away at her home at Plainfield two years ago.

Three daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. McGill, Mrs. Harvey Willard of this city, Mrs. R. Schwarz of Escanaba, Mich., and Mrs. Arnold Herman of Lena, Wis. All arrived to attend the funeral, as did also Messrs. Schwarz and Herman, and the two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Herman.

Funeral services were held at the late residence at McDill at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, Rev. E. Croft Gear of this city officiating. Hymns were sung by Mrs. T. H. Hanna and Miss Kate Ball. Interment followed in the McDill cemetery. The pallbearers were Ernest Shannon, Albin Mellen, Earl and Kenneth Warner, Harold Foote and Emil Gyrion.

ARMY ROUTES DISEASE

The health of our present American army will be cared for better than that of any previous one in the history of this country. Surgeon General Gorgas, who is in command of the Medical Corps of the Army, is the sanitarian who was responsible for making the Panama Canal zone fit for human habitation and hence made possible the building of the canal.

The American public, in general, and fathers and mothers of our young fighting men, in particular, are guaranteed by his presence and authority that nothing will be left undone to prevent disease epidemics. Since our last war, furthermore, we have learned a great deal about disease prevention which will be utilized in this one. Two lessons stand out prominently: first, the typhoid slaughter of the Spanish-American War; second, the successful public campaigns against tuberculosis.

In 1898 more than one in five soldiers sickened from typhoid. Of the high number who had the disease, about one in fourteen died of it. In recent years there have been practically no typhoid cases nor deaths in the army. Due to anti-typhoid vaccination and extraordinary care in drinking water supplied, the American soldier has been far more safe than the private citizen.

The remarkable gains made in cutting down the death rates from tuberculosis have put the army officers on tiptoe to prevent the spread of the disease among the men they are responsible for. As a consequence, an examination is being made to detect any evidence of obscure disease among the soldiers even of the regular army. This is in recognition of the fact that extraordinary strains of trench life and warfare will break down men who could stand up indefinitely under normal living conditions.

From one in one hundred to as high as seven in one hundred of our young soldiers are found to be infected by tuberculosis. The same state of affairs would be discovered in the rest of the population of the same age were a means at hand for securing equally competent examinations. Perhaps, during and following the war, a way will be found to take as intelligent steps to safeguard the health and lives of the civil population. There should be because war is hard on civil population as well as on military, and in the long run we shall find that it is cheaper to buy prevention than cures and remedies.

THE FOUR BEST WORDS

A prophet has said that the choicest words in the English language are "Enclosed please find check," and when the enclosure is for a substantial amount, the quoted words are emphasized. Last week's mail brought such an epistle from Senator Jas. E. Leary of Libby, Mont., advancing his subscription to the Gazette until the end of next year.

Miss Gladys Burt of Owen spent Saturday in the city.

VISITORS FROM DAKOTA

George Giese and Family Are Guests at Old Home in Linwood—Good Crops in West

Mr. and Mrs. George Giese and two sons of Slope Center, N. Dak., are visiting a couple of weeks at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Giese, and among other relatives in the town of Linwood. George went west ten years ago and took up a homestead in Slope county, which he developed into a productive farm, but recently gave up this calling to engage in the general merchandise business. Giese postoffice was the original name of Slope Center, but as it is located in the middle of that county, the suggestive title was given the town.

Diversified farming is now the rule among tillers of the soil in that section and as a result crop failures are unknown. Stock raising and dairying are also being rapidly developed and numerous creameries are in successful operation.

George is much in love with the prairie country, where one can easily see the landscape for a radius of many miles. His present visit here gives him a sort of congested feeling because of the comparative smallness of our farms.

A Long Drought

A Western Congressman, in discussing the droughts that sometimes afflict his State, tells this story:

"One day some one asked an old farmer, 'How would you like to see it rain?'"

"I don't care about it myself," said the old man, "but I've got a boy six years old who would like to see it rain."—Harper's Magazine.

The first census in the United States filled a little book of 56 pages. The last census required more than 100 volumes, or more than 40,000 pages.

Aspiring Author—"Candidly, now what do you think of my new story?" The Critic—"Please don't ask me. You are so much bigger and stronger than I am."—Puck.

Co-operative Deliveries on Request of Council of National Defense

Stevens Point Acts to Help Economize on Men and Money

On request of Council of National Defense, Grocers and Meat Market Proprietors of Stevens Point have organized a Co-operative delivery system in order to help the Nation save money and men. It is a purely patriotic move and deserves the hearty co-operation of the public. The merchants who have entered into the system are doing so as a duty to the Government, as true patriots doing their bit. You can do your bit by helping these merchants. Remember that they are doing it for the good of the country—for your good—even at a possible sacrifice of their own interests.

STARTING MONDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 19

at 8 o'clock the first Co-operative delivery wagons will scatter over the city, and thereafter deliveries will be as follows: 8 A. M., 10 A. M., 2 P. M. and 4 P. M., except on Saturdays, when the last two deliveries will be at 2:30 and 4:45 P. M. Co-operate with the merchants by ordering early. If you desire goods on the first delivery in the morning, try and phone your order the night before or not later than 7:30 in the morning. If you wish goods on the second delivery phone not later than 9:30 o'clock. You can help to get better service for yourself by allowing at least a half hour's time before deliveries, and more if possible.

BUT STILL MORE IMPORTANT

carry small parcels yourself. Please understand that this move is urged by the President and the Council of National Defense, and that you will help materially if you comply with the requests.

The following merchants have signed and pledged their co-operation to this patriotic move:

that it is movement is urged by the National Council of Defense—that it is done to help the nation save time and money—that it is your duty to co-operate with merchants.

PATRONIZE CO-OPERATIVE DELIVERY MERCHANTS

HEALTHY SKIN Depends on Kidneys.

The skin and the intestines, which work together with the kidneys to throw out the poisons of the body, do a part of the work, but a clean body and a healthy one depends on the kidneys. If the kidneys are clogged with toxic poisons you suffer from stiffness in the knees in the morning on arising, your joints seem "rusty," you may have rheumatic pains, pain in the back, stiff neck, headaches, sometimes swollen feet, or neuralgic pains—all due to the uric acid or toxic poisons in the blood. This is the time to go to the nearest drug store and simply obtain a 50c. package of Anuric, the discovery of Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y. Then drink a cup of hot water before meals, with an Anuric Tablet, and notice the gratifying results.

THIS WOMAN WAS WEAK, THIN, COULDN'T EAT

Milwaukee, Wis.—"I am giving this testimonial in the hope that some suffering woman will see it and receive as much benefit from the use of Dr. Pierce's remedies as I have. Some years ago I was afflicted with woman's weakness. I suffered for several years. Was weak, thin, couldn't eat, and was ready to give up. I learned of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription; it gave relief at once, and four bottles, with the 'Pleasant Laxative,' completely cured me. I have been healthy and strong ever since. It is a wonderful medicine for weak women.—Mrs. MINNIE MEYER, 227 Washington St.

GO NO FARTHER

The Evidence is at Your Door

Stevens Point proof is what you want and the statement of this highly respected resident will banish all doubt.

J. B. Marshall, 302 Monroe St., Stevens Point, says: "A few years ago I had trouble from a dull pain across my back and I think it was brought on by the strain from lifting. The trouble caused me so much annoyance that I wanted to get rid of it. Knowing that one of my neighbors recommended Doan's Kidney Pills highly, I tried them. They relieved me quickly and soon rid me of the pain. Doan's Kidney Pills went right to the seat of the trouble and strengthened my kidneys and I can say that they are all they are claimed to be."

Price 60 cents at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Marshall had. Foster-McBarn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Employers should remember that the loyalty of employees depends very much upon how the help of the hotel is treated. There is a fundamental law of things which reads something like this: You get what you give! (Of course there are exceptions!)

NEWS AND VIEWS FROM HERE AND THERE

Rudolph Johnas of Grand Rapids pleaded not guilty of threatening the life of President Wilson and was held in $10,000 bonds in the federal court at Madison.

The 57th annual State Sunday School convention is being held at Fond du Lac. Prominent speakers from different sections of the nation will address the meeting.

Complaint has been filed with Gov. Philipp against H. P. Borgen, sheriff of Barron county, alleging misconduct in the affairs of his office. The matter will be given a hearing by the governor Nov. 14.

Patrons of the La Crosse branch of the Wisconsin-Minnesota Light and Power company of La Crosse have organized to fight the petition filed by the company asking for an increase of forty per cent in rates.

Through the will of M. Edward Rhyner, old resident of Oshkosh, who died Aug. 12, the First Baptist temple of that city will receive about $8,000. All the property of the decedent is left to the church.

Railroad regulation modeled after the Wisconsin plan may be introduced into Japan. S. Sogo, secretary of the imperial Japanese railway, is in Madison investigating Wisconsin laws and their administration. S. Sogo visited Gov. Philipp and the railroad commission offices.

John E. Williams, pioneer theatrical man, died at Oshkosh last Thursday, aged 68, after a long illness from pleurisy. He was owner of the Grand Opera House at Oshkosh and was widely known over the country among theatrical and circus people as "Honest John" Williams.

More than $500,000 is invested in furniture and fixtures in Wisconsin's new $7,000,000 state capitol. An inventory of the chairs, desks, ink stands, record books, etc., would fill volumes. In 1848 the entire property about the capitol was listed on a single sheet of paper.

Machinery for ten complete sawmills, made by the McDonough Manufacturing Co. of Eau Claire, in fifty-five days, has been sent east on a special train, to be shipped at once to France. Ordinarily, ten mills would represent the output of the company for one year.

Madison is now the second healthiest city in the United States. Seattle is at the top. Seattle has a population of 348,639 under new census rating, and a death rate of seven per thousand. Madison with a population of 34,500, has a death rate of 8.80. St. Paul is third on the list, with Denver fourth.

O. P. Babbitt, manager of the Wausau Canning Co. says the company expects to double its beet acreage next year, and is also planning to treat all its seed with a bacteria furnished by the National Canners' association, which tends to reduce the cutworm nuisance. Mr. Babbitt says, too, there will be a large pea acreage.

Footsore and weary, August Schmidt, 80, hobbled into Appleton last week on the last stretch of a 500-mile walk from North Dakota to Green Bay, where he intends to make his home with his son. "I worked all summer for my boy, Charlie, in Montana, and he had poor crops and could afford to pay my railroad fare only part way home," he said.

William Jenoff, Ironwood, is alleged to have said that he could "spit on that," as he pointed to the United States flag on a saloon wall in Hurley. The bartender, remonstrated with Jenoff. When the bartender's first barrage was over, Jenoff was found to have received bruises necessitating services of a surgeon. Thursday he paid a fine of $36.05 and returned to Ironwood.

A $100,000 suit for libel was filed in the Dane county circuit court by Senator Robert M. La Follette against O. D. Brandenburg, editor, and the Democrat Printing company. The articles complained of, charge Senator LaFollette with treason, sedition, disloyalty, and misconduct in office. The complaint further alleges that his public speeches have been misquoted and misrepresented.

Christian H. Beyer, 85, crier and messenger of the Wisconsin supreme court, has the record of being the oldest state employe in the Wisconsin capitol. His employment dates back to before the "granger movement" of 1873, which swept William R. Taylor into the executive chair. Mr. Beyer also has another long distance record. Mr. and Mrs. Beyer have just celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Rhody E. Keis, 75, and Fred Kinyon, 50, pleaded not guilty at La Crosse before Judge Landis in the United States district court to a charge of conspiring to defraud the government by filing a false pension claim. The woman claims Kinyon is her son and his real name Ambrose Keis. She filed claim for a widow's pension. The government contends the woman is Kinyon's common-law wife.

The birth of a baby without eyes has been reported to the Appleton health department. The parents of the child are Mr. and Mrs. James Kurtz. Where the eyes should be there are but lids and these are closed and adhere together. Otherwise the child is normal. The attending doctor stated that this case of a child born without eyes is the first of the kind to come under his observation and he has no knowledge of any similar case in medical records.

Carp fishing in Wisconsin is a profitable business in these times of meatless days and high food prices. The biggest single haul ever made in the four lakes surrounding Madison brought in 250,000 pounds of carp with a cash value of about $15,000. A net nearly a mile in length was used. Carp and other rough fish are taken from the lakes under the supervision of the state conservation commission and sold to cities under supervision of the department.

Manderson Lehr, Beloit boy and former star all-round athlete at Beloit college, is now a full-fledged flier with a French escadrille on duty on a Roumanian front. He went to France six months ago as a member of the first Beloit contingent of American Field Ambulance service workers to go over-seas. He quit driving an ambulance on the Verdun front to enter a French flying school at Pau, from which he emerged a finished war aviator. Lehr is one of more than a dozen Beloit men in service abroad.

A popular piece of literature, issued by the industrial commission, is a little 3x5 card addressed to workmen. What to Do When Hurt. This card warns all injured workmen to report at once their accident, however slight, to their boss or foreman and to tell him how and where they were hurt. It advises workmen to go to the doctor to whom the employer sends them, or they will lose their claim for the doctor's bill. It suggests writing to the industrial commission, if they have difficulty in securing compensation.

Mrs. Leslie B. Rowley of Madison is ranked as one of the state's most patriotic women. She has given her four sons to the U. S. cause. She inherits her war spirit, because she is a daughter of the American Revolution. Besides giving her sons, Mrs. Rowley is working for the Red Cross and is a member of the woman's committee of the Wisconsin State Council of Defense. Mr. Rowley and Gordon, a younger son, are doing their bit. The father is a captain and the son is a corporal in the home guard company.

DRAFT REGULATIONS

President Wilson Makes Official Announcement of Rules Recently Promulgated

Calling upon every citizen of the United States to put personal interests aside, and help the government classify the remaining 9,000,000 registrants for selection, President Wilson Saturday night issued a foreword on new regulations. He asked every lawyer and doctor to volunteer his services, that free legal and medical aid bureaus may be established for registrants in connection with each local board.

The president estimated that the classification, which the provost marshal general announced will begin throughout the country about Dec. 15, should be complete in sixty days. Questionnaires are now being sent to local boards. Under plans proposed the exact physical, mental, moral, social, commercial and industrial status of every registrant will be fixed. The government will have data on shipbuilders, foresters, bricklayers, hod carriers, musicians and every other type of man power. Speedy mobilization and equipment of units for any war task will be possible. The new method will enable the government to exempt men with closer regard to the nation's labor needs in all lines.

A place will be arranged near each local board headquarters where men may fill out questionnaires. Under the direction of county judges or other officials, a committee will see that there are always plenty of lawyers to help registrants. Questionnaires will be mailed to 5 per cent of the registrants each day, beginning Dec. 15. Each man has seven days to fill out and return the list. Dec. 23 the local boards will begin placing the men in five classes. They should finish about Feb. 13. Soon afterward the second selective call may be expected.

TWO SONS IN SERVICE

The following paragraphs from last week's Rhinelander New North will be of special interest to friends of Messrs. Guiday and Stapleton, both of whom were former residents of Stockton township, this county: Irvin Guiday, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Guiday, is the latest Rhinelander boy to join the United States navy. Irvin was recruited by Postmaster Matt Stapleton of this city and was examined for the service in Milwaukee. Irvin's many friends here feel that he will give a good account of himself as one of Uncle Sam's sea fighters. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Guiday now have two sons in the war service. Lyle Guiday is a member of Company L in Waco, Texas.

CONDITION IS SERIOUS

Joseph, the seventeen year old son of Geo. Egenhofer, brewmaster for the Stevens Point Brewing Co., is seriously ill with lung trouble at the family home on Water street. The young man was a student for four years at Calvary seminary, near Fond du Lac, but had to give up his studies because of ill health.

A Suggestion For Christmas

Expensive Gifts for Christmas are no longer considered necessary; in fact now-a-days it is the sentiment and not the cost that makes the gift worth while.

Season's greeting cards are the ideal remembrance. They carry a sentiment that harmonizes with the true Spirit of Christmas.

There exists between your house and our house a spirit of good will that finds expression at this time in wishing you a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year

In what other way can you spread Christmas Joy among more people at less expense?

We have a wonderful assortment of samples we would be only too pleased to show to you.

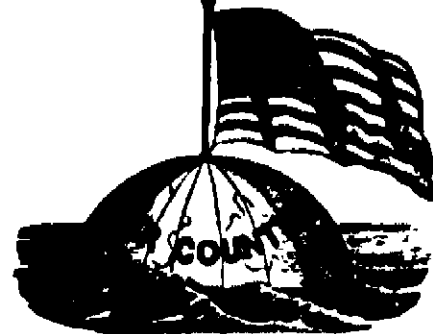

Call early to avoid disappointment

HOMEMADE VINEGARS.

HERB VINEGAR.—Herb vinegar is very easily made and especially by those who have herbs growing fresh in their own gardens. Mint, thyme, marjoram, basil, tarragon, etc., are all suitable, or a mixture of herbs may be used. Choose young leaves, pick them from the stalks and wash and dry them if necessary. Then put them into wide mouthed bottles, filling these three parts full, and fill up with good vinegar. Cork the bottles closely and leave them for three weeks. By this time the vinegar ought to be sufficiently flavored and may be strained off into bottles and corked again. The vinegar will become impregnated with the full flavor of the herbs and will be found useful in winter for flavoring salads, sauces, fish dishes, etc.

Spiced Vinegar.—This is especially good to flavor cauliflower, cabbage, cucumber and other vegetable salads. For each gallon of good vinegar slice six cloves of garlic, six onions, two horseradish roots, four ounces of bruised ginger roots, four ounces of mustard seeds, two ounces each of black pepper and unground allspice. Put in a stone crock and simmer on back of stove for ten hours, then strain and bottle for use. To make sweet spiced vinegar boil two and one-half cupsful of brown sugar with three pints of cider vinegar, adding four cloves, two inches of cinnamon stick, one blade of mace, one bay leaf, one sliced lemon and one ounce of bruised ginger root, allow to cook for fifteen minutes and when cold strain, bottle and seal. This is good with fruit salad or for spicing prunes.

Nasturtium Vinegar.—Nasturtium vinegar is very useful for flavoring sauces, gravies and for use in salads or special salad dressing. The fully grown flowers should be gathered on a dry day, put into a wide glass bottle, shaken down until they lie close and covered with cold vinegar. A very small shallot, finely chopped, and a fragment of chopped garlic may be added if desired. The bottle must be quite full of vinegar. At the end of two months it may be opened for use, then vinegar being strained and seasoned with salt and red pepper.

Watermelon Vinegar.—Watermelon vinegar was a favorite in olden times. Take the inside of ripe melons—the riper the better—crush in a stone jar, strain the juice into clean bottles, jars or pitchers; cover and set away to sour. This is an excellent vinegar.

CANNING STUNTS.

CANNED PEARS.—Pare fruit cut in halves. Throw into cold water or they will discolor. Use a pound of sugar to three pounds of fruit and a quart of water for three pounds of sugar. When sirup is boiling take pears from the water and drop into the sirup. Cook until they can be pierced easily with a silver fork. Fill jars with fruit and fill up to brim with sirup, using a small strainer in the funnel that the sirup may look clear.

Quince Jelly.—Take quince parings without the cores, cover with cold water, boil an hour or longer, drain through a jelly bag. Use a cupful of sugar (measured in oven) to each cupful of hot juice. Boil twenty minutes and pour into hot jelly glasses. When cold cover with paraffin.

Porter Apple Jelly.—Wash the fruit clean. Put in the kettle, cover with water, boil until thoroughly cooked. Pour into a sieve, let drain. Do not press through. For each pint of this liquor allow a pound of sugar. Boil from twenty minutes to half an hour. Jellies can be made from quinces, peaches and crabapples by same directions.

Green Grape Jelly.—Take full grown grapes just before they change color. Pick them from the stems, wash and place in a porcelain kettle with just enough water to cook them without burning. When all are cooked soft turn into a sugar sack or any suitable cloth and hang where the juice can drain into a jar. Weigh the clear juice and set on the fire in a porcelain kettle. After it boils ten minutes add its weight in granulated sugar and boil ten minutes more. Skim off the scum that rises. To make a nice red add some red sugar sand just before taking off the fire. Heat the glasses in hot water before putting the hot jelly in and let stand till cold, then cover in the usual way.

ASSESSMENT FIGURES SHOW BIG INCREASE

Value of Property in County, Shown
By Official Report, Indicates Prosperity

The total true value of real and personal property in Portage county at the time the 1917 assessment was made was $31,878,928, an increase of $757,576 over the total for the preceding year, according to the annual report of Andrew P. Een of Amherst, assessor of incomes.

The total assessed value of all real and personal property, as made by the various assessors, is $24,854,334, which amount exceeds the figures of 1916 by $1,371,746. In 1916 the assessed value was 75.49% of true value, while this year the percentage is 77.97, indicating that the county is slowly working up to a 100% basis. In the village of Amherst Junction the assessment is 100.74 of true value and in the village of Nelsonville the percentage is 101.85. The town of Lanark has the lowest percentage assessment, 65.18. The assessment of the city of Stevens Point is 81.51% of true value, which is a substantial improvement over 1916, when the percentage was but 69.09.

The assessed value of real estate in the city is $4,105,280, or 20% of the whole. The assessed value of the personal property of the city is $1,854,083, or 30.95% of the whole. The true values for the city, as given by Mr. Een, follow: real estate, $4,972,480; personal property, $1,724,916. The total assessed value of real and personal property in the city is $6,697,396, compared to $4,719,893 in 1916. This is an increase of $739,470. "An examination of sales records shows that lands have practically doubled in value in Portage county during the last twelve years," says Mr. Een in his report, "and an examination of the records of assessment in the county shows that up to four or five years ago the assessment of real estate in most of the towns of the county had remained almost stationary for quite a number of years during this period of rapid rises in values. Owing to these conditions the assessed value of a large proportion of the assessment districts of the county had fallen very low as compared with true value.

"In order therefore to comply with the law which requires all taxable property to be assessed at full value and in the interest of a better and more equitable assessment between different taxpayers in each district, an effort has been made during the last four or five years to bring assessments up to full value throughout the county, and as a result a number of assessment districts have doubled, and some more than doubled their assessments during these last four or five years and nearly all districts in the county have made good progress toward true value. This is shown by the fact that in 1912 the total assessed value of all taxable property in the county was $13,896,412, while in 1917 it had reached $24,854,334. Yet owing to the fact that while we were raising our assessments, values were also rising rapidly, Portage county with all this progress was assessed this year at but 77.97% of true value. It is therefore necessary and important that we continue to advance or raise our assessments, especially as values are rising also."

Mr. Een then goes on to explain that raising assessments does not increase taxes. "The sole object of the assessment," he points out, "is to measure the proportion of the tax burden which each property owner shall bear." He also refers to the fact that only the electors at town and school district meetings, village and county boards, common councils of cities and the state legislature can levy taxes. State and county taxes are not apportioned according to local assessments, but on a basis that is fair to all.

The report of Mr. Een gives the number of horses, mules and asses in the county as 10,710, which are assessed at $964,271; the neat cattle number 27,525, assessed at $809,854; the number of sheep is 1,746, assessed at $6,790; of swine there are 5,113, on which the assessment is $61,426. The number of wagons, carriages and sleighs is 9,424, of an assessed value of $137,167. Merchants' stock in the county aggregate an assessed value of $830,947 and manufacturers' stock $310,728.

Other assessment figures follow: Leaf tobacco, $255; logs, timber, lumber, etc., $22,730; steam and other vessels, $3,300; property and franchises of water and light companies, $214,150; bank stock, $339,815.

The number of automobiles in the county, as reported by the assessors, is 1,183, assessed at $356,150. Of this number 304 are owned in Stevens Point and are assessed at $98,575. In 1916 the assessors reported but 778 automobiles in the county.

GOING INTO NAVY

Roman Woznicki arrived home last Sunday from Minneapolis and expects to remain here about three weeks. On his return to the flour city he expects to be called into service as first class hospital apprentice in the United States navy, and will undergo training in New York. Roman had been at Minneapolis eight months, four of which he devoted to a course at Drew's Institute of Pharmacy. He has had seven and a half years of apprentice experience in drug stores. He has already passed his examination for the navy. His brother, Frank Woznicki, is a member of the former Troop I of this city, now a part of Battery E, 120th Field Artillery, at Waco, Texas.

CAMP GRANT SOLDIERS LEARNING FINE POINTS

Wisconsin Soldiers at Illinois Campment Are Showing Irresistible Energy

Camp Grant, Ill., Nov. 13. The irresistible energy with which the United States soldiers at this camp are carrying out their training in the Philippines, is being shown in the National gymnasium here. The soldiers are showing an energy and endurance which is being shown in the National gymnasium here. The soldiers are showing an energy and endurance which is being shown in the National gymnasium here.

In the Philippines, among American and native soldiers, wall scaling is a pet exercise, and its usefulness is obvious both in open warfare and the present European "war of positions." Acrobatic skill and teamwork are essential for the rapid and successful execution of the work. Instead of performing in circus "tights" however, the men must mount the wall in uniform, with heavy field shoes, rifle, cartridge belt and other equipment.

In the 341st Infantry another advanced step has been taken in the construction of a grenade throwing range, along the lines of the most modern courses in England and France. Many expert grenade hurlers are already being developed—men who can throw the missiles at given distances with deadly accuracy. In the 341st Infantry the men are already "going over the top" in most realistic fashion, rising from deep trenches by means of trench ladders, and instantly adopting the formations which have spelled repeated success for the armies of France.

In these formations the functions of riflemen and grenadiers have been divided so that men showing special skill in either branch are assigned to definite tasks in the advance. What the French fondly term "elan," and Americans fighting dash and spirit, is rife among these Wisconsin troops, to whom modern war conditions have been made realistic by the 341st's big bayonet assault course, trench sector, bombing pits, machine gun emplacements and—last but not least—the "big wall."

Second Member of Family of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. McCready Responds to Nation's Call

With two sons now in the service of Uncle Sam, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. McCready of Stevens Point have reason to feel that they are doing their "bit."

Charles McCready, Jr., left a promising and developing business at Stevens Point to join the American Field Service, and has been in France a few weeks. He is now under the command of the 1st Cavalry Division, and is doing his "bit" in the supply depot of the line.

Charles McCready, Jr., a younger brother of Charles McCready, Sr., came home last week from France, and he successfully passed the physical examination and was going to Camp Meade, Annapolis, Maryland, for training. It is very probable that he will be sent abroad in the near future as highway engineer, as he has much experience in the fighting zones.

Selden is a graduate of the local high school, class of 1912, and for several years has been engaged in civil engineering work. He was first employed with a Soo line engineering crew, but recently with a crew sent out by the Interstate Commerce Commission to make a valuation survey of the North Western line.

Conversion of the 3 1/2% Liberty Loan Bonds

May be effected through this bank by the surrender of the 3 1/2 per cent bonds together with a request for conversion at any time after November 12, 1917 (but not after May 15, 1918.) If conversions are effected at any time before December 16, 1917, payments to the government to adjust interest will not be required, but on and after that date, such payments must be made.

The machinery for the adjustment of interest has been worked out so that such adjustments will be made with a minimum of inconvenience if conversions are effected as of Nov. 15, 1917, or as of Dec. 15, 1917.

Holders of bonds or interim certificates of the First Liberty Loan who desire to effect conversions should surrender their holdings for conversion on Nov. 12, 1917, or as soon thereafter as possible. Conversion of bonds so surrendered will be effected as of Nov. 15, 1917, or as of Dec. 15, 1917, holders thereof will thereby obtain the full benefit of the higher rate of interest from the earliest possible date.

Subscribers for bonds of the First Liberty Loan who have for any reason not received either definite bonds or interim certificates and who desire to convert should notify us at once, and we will arrange the exchange for you without charge.

More Than Half of Drafted Men of County Not Called are Agricultural Workers

The Portage county exemption board has tackled another big job—that of compiling a vast amount of data obtainable only from the registration cards that have been in their possession since last June 5. This detail work is being done under instructions from Provost Marshal General Crowder and must be completed by next Saturday evening. Several local men not members of the board have volunteered to assist in the compilation.

The cards of the 2,043 Portage county registrants who have not been called for examination have already been gone over and from them the classification of occupations made. A surprising fact in connection with the classification is that 1,097 registrants or more than 50% of the whole number classified are farmers. There are 157 railroad employees, 119 are engaged in domestic and manual service in general, including barbers, bartenders, clerks, etc., 61 are employed in lumber and furniture industries, 90 are carpenters and painters, 140 are general laborers, 88 are employed in paper and printing industries, 79 are engaged in trade and general merchandise lines, including bankers, real estate men, insurance men, men in wholesale and retail stores and shops, etc., and 88 are in professional service, including doctors, dentists, teachers, etc. There are 120 classified as miscellaneous.

The 648 who have already been called for examination will also be classified as to occupation, and the entire number of registrants in the county, 2,691, will be listed by nationality and race. This classification will include enemy aliens, aliens allied with the enemy, and co-belligerents in Asia and Europe.

IS NOW AT REST

Several hundred friends from all parts of the county, and many others who came a greater distance, attended the funeral of Fred W. Kussmann at Amherst German Lutheran church last Friday afternoon. Rev. B. O. Richter conducted the last sad rites at church and cemetery. Mr. Kussmann, who lived for many years in Stockton and Amherst townships, passed away a week ago Tuesday. Those who served as pallbearers were four brothers-in-law, Rupert Ward of Stevens Point, Frank Pollard of McDill, Herman and Emil Degner of Fall Creek, Eau Claire county, and two cousins, August Stienke of Ogdensburg and H. J. Stienke of Amherst Junction.

NEWS REVIEW OF THE PAST WEEK

Kerensky and His Government Overthrown by Maximalists Led by Lenin.

PRO-GERMANS RULE IN RUSSIA

Immediate Peace First on Their Program—Retreat of Italians Continues—British Take Highly Important Passchendaele Ridge—America's War Mission to Paris.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD.
Kerensky and the provisional government of Russia have fallen; the Maximalists led by Nikolai Lenin, pro-German agitator, are in the saddle; the premier has fled and five or more of the members of his cabinet are under arrest; immediate peace with the central powers will be offered by the extreme radicals in control. Such is the dispiriting news that comes from the Slav republic, so called. Chaos exists there and a long continued reign of anarchy is the prospect.

The only hopeful feature of the situation is that, as Ambassador Bakhmeteff says, the revolt is a revolt of the few against the many. The Maximalists control Petrograd and probably the fortress of Kronstadt, but they have all Russia to reckon with, and especially the Cossacks, who have no sympathy with the plan to make a separate peace with the central powers. M. Bakhmeteff feels sure that the majority of the Russians who followed Kerensky are with the provisional government heart and soul, understand that Russia's freedom can be assured only by the defeat of Germany by the allies, and will fight to the end. The spirit prevailing in Petrograd, he asserts, is not representative of the Russian spirit as a whole.

Loyal Women Fight the Rebels.
Of all the armed forces in and about the capital it appears that the women's battalion alone remained loyal to the government. It was stationed at the winter palace and when that building was attacked by the cruiser Aurora and the guns of the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul, it fought as bravely as possible until overwhelmed and compelled to surrender. The battle lasted four hours and was spectacular. The rebels brought up armored cars to aid in overcoming the resistance of the heroic women. There was no chance to call other loyal troops to Petrograd, for the leaders of the workmen's and soldiers' delegates had seized the posts and telegraphs.

The rebel congress was convened Wednesday night, the officers elected including Lenin and Leon Trotsky. Several proclamations were issued, one of them stating the program of the new authority to be:

"First—The offer of an immediate democratic peace.

"Second—The immediate handing over of large proprietorial lands to the peasants.

"Third—The transmission of all authority to the council of soldiers' and workmen's delegates.

"Fourth—The honest convocation of a constitutional assembly."

It is believed in London that Kerensky will re-establish the provisional government in Moscow and that the Soviet will not be strong enough to hold out long against him. For the present, however, the pro-Germans have the upper hand.

Italians Retreat to the Livenza.

As had been expected, Count Cadorna did not attempt to make a long stand on the On-Sweeping Austro-German armies, but fell back last week to the Livenza, twelve to eighteen miles west. The enemy followed closely, and the prospect was that the Italians would speedily be forced back to the Piave, where their main armies already were being established. Cadorna issued an order including in the zone of military operations all territory north and east of the Po and Minio rivers, so he may consider the possibility of carrying his retreat much farther than the Piave. Whether this will be necessary evidently depends on the speed with which France, Great Britain and America can get men, guns and supplies to the Italian front. Guns and supplies especially are called for by the Italians.

The victory of the Germans in Italy will be far from complete unless they can capture Venice. The German commanders already have hinted that they will attack that city from the air, and naval operations against it are more than possible in the immediate future. As was said before, the invasion served to bring about a swift union of all factions in Italy, and the government, while realizing the extreme gravity of the situation, is confident that the enemy will fail to accomplish their military object as they have their political object. The Italian armies are maintaining order and discipline and are cheerful, and the rear guards are fighting valiantly to retard the advance of the Teutons.

As in Russia, formerly, so in Italy, the farther the invaders penetrate, the more dangerous becomes their own position. They are moving away from their bases of supply, and must rebuild the lines of communication destroyed by the Italians in their retreat. Cadorna, on the other hand, gains the protection of rivers larger than the Tagliamento, of many canals and of numerous railroads that are able to furnish all the transportation his contracted front needs.

British Gain Passchendaele Ridge.
Sir Douglas Haig's periodical drive in Flanders, which is becoming a regular weekly feature, accomplished most important results last week, when the Canadians succeeded in taking the village of Passchendaele and the ridge of the same name which dominates the country to the east. The drive was made under most adverse conditions, the ground being flooded by torrential rains, but the British barrage fire was perfect and the infantry followed it so closely that the Germans in their concrete dugouts and pill boxes were stormed before they had time to get into action. This advance brought Roulers under the guns of the British, and their aviators also began bombing that town with deadly effect.

Following up the retiring crown prince's army north of the Aisne, the French reached the south bank of the Ailette, but the Germans maintained their line on the other side of that stream by heavy and continuous artillery fire. Elsewhere on the French front all enemy attacks were successfully repulsed.

General Allenby reported that his troops in Palestine advanced beyond Beersheba with splendid dash and endurance and that on Wednesday he captured Gaza from the Turks.

American Patrol Boat Torpedoed.

The German U-boats found one American victim in the patrol boat Alcedo, which was torpedoed and sunk in British waters, going down in four minutes after being struck. Lieut. John T. Melvin and 20 men were lost. The Alcedo was formerly the private yacht of G. W. Childs Drexel of Philadelphia. She carried a crew of seven officers and 85 men. The American merchant steamship Rochester also was destroyed by a torpedo, at least four men losing their lives. An American freighter arriving at an Atlantic port reported that her gun crew sank a German submarine that attempted to torpedo her in the Mediterranean.

In general, the U-boats had a poor week, the British admiralty report showing that only eight British vessels of more than 1,000 tons had been sunk, and four smaller vessels. This is the smallest number of victims for any week since unrestricted submarine warfare began.

Von Hertling May Not Last.

Count von Hertling isn't likely to be German chancellor for very long, for unless he yields to the demands of the radicals, they intend to introduce a resolution of lack of confidence as soon as the reichstag reconvenes on November 22. The count seems to have fallen under complete control of the militarists and junkers and is now threatening the radicals with a military dictatorship unless they drop their claim that one of their number should be appointed vice chancellor. The reichstag majority, with which the count solemnly announced the other day he would now work in harmony, is in danger of breaking up, with the result of a union of the national liberals and the conservatives. Such a coalition would have a bare majority and would be subjected to constant attack by the Socialists. The prospect of a political truce, it is admitted, is remote.

The Budapest papers announce that the Austro-Hungarian ausgleich, or agreement of the two kingdoms to unite under one emperor though having separate parliaments, will be renewed provisionally for two years. The alliance, originally signed in 1867, is supposed to be subject to renewal every ten years.

Japan and America Agree.
Viscount Ishii's mission to the United States has been successful and Japan is guaranteed her price for more active participation in the war. The American government has agreed to recognize Japan's special interests in China and to permit the shipment to Japan of the supplies of iron and steel that she needs. In return, Japan will furnish a great amount of tonnage for transport purposes, will get into action her warships, numbering about a hundred and already mobilized, and probably will send an army to Europe. Italy is asking that Japanese troops be called over to help repel the invading Teutons.

Though Japan's special interests in China are to be recognized because of contiguity, both nations agree to maintain the open door and the territorial sovereignty of China.

Socialists Lose in Elections.
Emperor William met a notable defeat in the United States last Tuesday, when in Chicago and New York the Socialists were thoroughly whipped at the polls. Supporting the Socialist nominees for judges in Chicago and for mayor and other city officials in New York, were all the forces of pro-Germanism, pacifism and disloyalty, and though they cast a disgracefully large vote, the defeat administered to them was decisive.

These elections were looked upon, and rightly, as a test of the loyalty of the two largest cities in the country. Most of the Socialist candidates were openly anti-war men and some of them in their pre-election utterances came dangerously near the treason mark. Hence the victory of loyalty and patriotism is cause for genuine rejoicing.

John F. Hyland, Tammany Democrat, was elected mayor of New York and the state gave a large majority in favor of woman suffrage. In Ohio, however, the women lost.

House Heads U. S. War Mission.

Upon their arrival in a British port the administration announced the names of the members of the American war commission sent to take part in the great conference of the allies in Paris. Col. E. M. House is the chairman and spokesman for the president on questions concerning the general conduct of the war. The other members are Admiral W. S. Benson, chief of naval operations; Gen. Tasker H. Bliss, chief of staff; Oscar T. Crosby, assistant secretary of the treasury; Vance C. McCormick, chairman of the war trade board; Bainbridge Colby, member of the shipping board; Dr. Alonzo E. Taylor, representative of Food Administrator Hoover; Thomas N. Perkins, member of the priority board, and Gordon Auchincloss, chief secretary of the commission.

Secretary Lansing issued a statement that makes it clear that the allies realize that many of their reverses have been due to lack of team work, and that one of the chief aims of the conference will be to bring about unity of action. For its part, the United States seeks to determine just how its man power and material resources can be used to greatest advantage to defeat the common enemy. Mr. Lansing laid especial emphasis on the fact that the conference is a war conference and nothing else. The administration is not expecting an early peace, and is making all preparations for a long conflict.

DANCY

Nick Steuck, one of our prosperous farmers, recently purchased a new Country Club auto.

Look for the account of the big Red Cross ball and don't forget the date and also to be on hand.

Farmers have been taking advantage of favorable weather the past few days and hustling their fall work.

Several of our Polish residents motored to Stevens Point last Sunday morning and attended the patriotic demonstration by people of that nationality, who are trying to organize a Polish regiment.

No slackers or idlers on the knitting question through this section, all having caught the spirit of: Knit and the world knits with you; Quit and you quit alone: For our soldier boys need warm supplies. When they're so far away from home.

Invitations have been received for the marriage on Thursday morning of Miss Amelia Schliesmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schliesmann, very prominent residents of the town of Sharon, to John Gutman. We wish the young couple a long and happy wedded life.

Don't forget there will be a big Red Cross ball in Adam Feit's hall on Wednesday evening, Nov. 28th—Thanksgiving eve. Music will be furnished by Cone's Rourth regiment orchestra of Wausau. If you cannot attend, buy a ticket and help the worthiest of all causes along. Perhaps your own brother or son will be benefited thereby. Further particulars next week.

Last Saturday afternoon a very pleasant and profitable meeting of Knowlton-Dancy Red Cross was held at the home of Miss Kathleen Guenther. Although as yet only partly organized the ladies sent to Wausau last Monday morning 57 completed articles, among which were two pairs of wristlets knit by Mrs. T. K. Wilcox, widow of a Mexican war veteran and a lady eighty-six years of age. Last week Tuesday afternoon Mrs. C. B. Bird and other Wausau ladies met at the home of Mrs. G. G. Knoller to complete the organization in this territory. Mrs. Bird had just returned from Chicago, where she was a delegate to a National Red Cross meeting, there being more than 2,000 delegates present from every state in the union. She gave the ladies present an interesting account of her trip. The next Knowlton meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Alois Stark one week from Saturday at 2 p. m. Your presence is kindly requested.

APPEARS HERE THURSDAY

Miss Marie Meyer, who won worldwide fame through her interpretation of the character of Mary Magdalene in the Passion Play, will appear before a Stevens Point audience tomorrow evening in the third number of the entertainment course. The entertainment will be at the usual place, the Normal auditorium, and the usual time, 8:15.

NEW MILITARY UNIT

A new military unit is to be raised in Stevens Point. The new patriotic organization is to consist of the boy students at the High school. Eighty boys have already shown their interest in the new work, and it is expected that more will follow their example and become members. The new organization is to be placed under the direction of Captain M. J. Goodsell of the State Guard company. Only the rudiments of military drill will be given. Regular drills will be held Tuesdays, from four to six.

WORD FROM CAPT. BURNS

Mrs. J. E. Burns, 926 Normal avenue, received a card late last Wednesday afternoon from her son, Captain James F. Burns, who is with the Rainbow Division, which recently arrived in France. The card, which bore the stamp of the mail censor, United States army base, said: "Arrived safe and sound on the other side, so don't worry."

CHURCH MEN MEET

A meeting of the Wisconsin Valley Episcopal Church Men's club was held at the home of Senator I. P. Witter at Grand Rapids last Wednesday evening and was one of the most notable gatherings in the organization's history. About fifty men, from Stevens Point, Marshfield, Tomahawk, Wausau, Merrill, Mosinee and Grand Rapids, attended and enjoyed a wheatless day chicken dinner at 6:45 o'clock. The dinner was preceded by evensong at St. John's church. The relation of Christianity to the war and the necessity of the churches supporting the army and navy were topics discussed by the speakers, Justice M. B. Rosenberry of Madison, Bishop Weller of Fond du Lac, L. A. Pradt of Wausau, George K. Gibson of Chicago and T. H. Hanna of Stevens Point. J. L. Sturtevant of Wausau, the club president, presided. Stevens Point had in attendance besides Mr. Hanna, Rev. E. Croft Gear, F. E. Noble, T. L. N. Port, H. J. Week, G. A. Swanson and J. L. Jensen.

SERIES OF PARTIES

The first of a series of three dancing parties to be given by the Knights of Columbus this winter will take place on Friday evening, Nov. 30th, when Weber's orchestra will furnish music. A lunch will be served. Dates fixed for the other events are Jan. 11th and Feb. 8th, 1918.

WAR'S END FAR OFF SAYS APPLETON MAN

Judson G. Rosebush, In Y. M. C. A.
Address, Points Out Duty of Americans

That the United States is in for a "long, arduous and difficult war," to win which it will be increasingly necessary for Americans to sacrifice as individuals for the nation's welfare, was the prediction made by Judson G. Rosebush of Appleton at a Y. M. C. A. massmeeting held at the Armory in Stevens Point Monday evening.

Mr. Rosebush, who is one of Wisconsin's leading financiers and paper mill men and was for several years a member of the faculty of Lawrence college, has been a moving spirit in the loyalty movements inaugurated in Wisconsin during the past few months. He came to Stevens Point in connection with the Y. M. C. A. fund-raising campaign, which is being conducted this week. T. H. Hanna, chairman of the Portage county organization, presided at the meeting and introduced the speaker.

"We are never going to get ourselves in the proper state of mind until we get over the idea that the war is going to end by Christmas, next spring or even next fall," Mr. Rosebush declared. "The war is only half over," he continued. He then quoted this from a London publication of October 6, which, it must be remembered, was before the German invasion of Italy: "He would be an exceedingly foolish man indeed who would prophesy when this war will end." He also quoted Lord Northcliffe, the eminent English journalist, lately in this country, as follows: "If the war was to be ended today, it would be a Prussian victory."

Mr. Rosebush declared that the crippling of Italy by the German armies and the collapse of Russia as a military factor, have materially lengthened the war. Germany will hold out just as long as she is able to fight, he pointed out, because if Germany is beaten she will drop into the rank of a second class power, from which she would never be able to advance. To accomplish Germany's defeat, he continued, it will be necessary for America and all her allies to adopt a universal military system as thorough and effective as that of Germany. "Until one side or the other is thoroughly whipped," he asserted, "there is going to be no peace."

Mr. Rosebush, in enumerating some of the things that are necessary for Americans to do if this country is to win, said there will have to be an entire readjustment of our habits of life and of our social and economic activities. England, during the first three years of the war, tried to follow out the policy of "business as usual," and the allies, as a result, suffered reverse after reverse. England finally came to the realization that it is necessary to subordinate all industries to those essential to the conduct of the war, and her whole commercial life has consequently undergone a complete change.

Carrying this thought further, Mr. Rosebush said there has got to be an entire change regarding the accumulation of wealth by individuals. It will be necessary for us to lay down the dictum, he said, that there shall be no increase in individual or corporate wealth made possible by profits from things vitally necessary to the successful carrying on of the war. He characterized "war profits" as "blood money."

To illustrate the vast cost of the war, Mr. Rosebush said that the nations engaged spend in three days enough money to build the Panama Canal. More than five million soldiers have been killed, four million have died as a result of sickness and disease, and five million are incapacitated to such an extent that they are of no further use to their fellow men. The soldiers, he said, are deluding themselves in the belief that the war will end soon. This, he explained, is done to strengthen their morale against the horrors of the trenches, some of which, including the mud, the rats and the vermin, Mr. Rosebush described. He predicted that suffering in Europe this winter will be such as the world has never seen, with ten nations short of coal and foodstuffs. Tuberculosis, he said, is making tremendous inroads on the French population.

But despite all the suffering they are undergoing, the allied nations are determined to go on until victory is achieved, Mr. Rosebush declared. "The nations will finish the job now," he said, "so that their children and their grandchildren will never have to face such an awful war."

The tremendous breaking down of morality in military and civil life was discussed by Mr. Rosebush. He touched upon the great temptations that beset the men who are fighting in the trenches. Drink and the social evil are the cause of many lives being wrecked among the soldiers, and the absence of heads of many a house has caused the breaking up of many a happy home. There is a constant tendency toward the breaking down of morality and the lowering of the standard of morals, he declared. The greater the distance of soldiers from home, he said, the easier it is for them to succumb to temptation. The American soldiers thus face a trial, with 3,000 miles of ocean between them and their homes and communication with home infrequent, owing to the crippled mail service.

Mr. Rosebush emphasized the importance of morale in winning battles and attributed the falling down of Russia and a part of the Italian army largely to lack of morale. Napoleon said that morale is to other factors as 3 is to 1, and Gen. Pershing has expressed a similar thought. "If we're going to win the war we have got, as a matter of primary consideration, to maintain the morale of the American soldiers and those of all our allies," Mr. Rosebush declared. He said the allies are now at a critical point and every ounce of pressure must be exerted to accomplish the defeat of Prussianism.

"The habits which the soldiers acquire in Europe will follow them the rest of their lives," Mr. Rosebush said. "If a highly diseased army comes back the whole moral tone of the country will be affected for generations after generations. No association in Europe is exercising such an outstanding influence in the matter of supporting the morale of the soldiers on all of the allied fronts as the Young Men's Christian Association."

Mr. Rosebush described the "huts," in which the Y. M. C. A. activities are carried on, and told of the manner in which the secretaries and their assistants administer to the needs of the soldiers. Some of the huts are just behind the first line trenches and are crude affairs, while further away there are spacious frame buildings which serve as social centers, libraries, billiard rooms, writing rooms, etc. During the long winter months these buildings are practically the only clean, warm, well lighted places available to the soldiers.

To provide counter attractions to help the soldiers overcome temptation is the keynote of the work of the Y. M. C. A., Mr. Rosebush said. Its work is being constantly enlarged and has been highly commended by all of the allied nations. No distinction is made by the Y. M. C. A.; whether a man is Protestant or Catholic, Christian or atheist, he is welcome in the "Y" quarters. This, Mr. Rosebush said, is the same as with the Knights of Columbus, which, with the Y. M. C. A., has been officially permitted in the various cantonments in this country and in the American bases in Europe.

In concluding Mr. Rosebush said this is the first war in the world's history in which governments have taken a stand to stamp out immorality, which has always been so closely associated with military life in times of war. The Y. M. C. A. is standing between the soldier and his home, filling the place mothers, fathers, brothers, sisters, wives, sweethearts and other relatives and friends would occupy were they permitted to. It is not the Y. M. C. A. work for which the organization needs $35,000,000, but the work the government has turned over to it. This sum was decided upon by a budget committee of noted business men and will meet expenses to July 1, 1918. It will help 24,000,000 American soldiers, soldiers of our allies, live better and happier lives. It will be a great factor in insuring the return of "our boys"—those who do return—as men of clean morals, bodily and mentally as fit as when they left their homes. Wisconsin has been asked to raise $750,000 of this sum, Mr. Rosebush said, and Portage county's share is $8,000.

Before the meeting Weber's band and the State Guard infantry company, in uniform, paraded down Main street to the square and back to the Armory. The audience was not large, but listened attentively to Mr. Rosebush's interesting address.

BACK IN OLD LINE

Martin J. Roach, who sold his lumber business at Greenleaf, Brown county, a year or more ago and had since been living at Green Bay, is again back into harness, having bought an established yard at Seymour and moved his family there. The gentleman has followed this calling for many years and is thoroughly conversant with all departments thereof. Mrs. Roach is a sister of John E. and Miss Mary Welch of Hull township.

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES

Read Ambassador Gerard's wonderfully interesting book, "My Four Years in Germany," the most important contribution to the literature of great present day events.

Miss Winifred Hamilton's division of the eighth grade (2nd ward) are taking the brief course in library methods during November. "Tend to your knitting," but do not forget that we are still collecting books and magazines for the soldiers. The library is again indebted to Mrs. Owen Clark for a number of books.

NEED MORE SOLDIERS

Twelve Hundred Men Wanted to Fill Up Wisconsin National Guard Units in Texas

County councils of defense, county exemption boards and officers of State Guard companies have been appealed to by the adjutant general of Wisconsin to secure recruits immediately to fill the Wisconsin National Guard units at Waco, Texas.

Twelve hundred additional men are needed. Men of draft age who have not been called for examination may enlist, as may also men between 30 and 35 and youths under 18 and over 16, providing they have the necessary consent. Capt. M. J. Goodsell has established recruiting headquarters at the Armory and can be seen there almost any time during the day.

The men enlisted under this call will be credited to their respective counties on the next draft call. They will be assigned to the Wisconsin organizations, to home companies or as near to home companies as possible.

MIGHT WEAR GAS MASKS

Gas masks might become the style in Stevens Point, as they are on the battlefield, if an incident of last week were repeated many times. A junk man, while removing some junk from the old Normington laundry building on Church street, in some manner opened a gas pipe. He did not report it, as he should have done, and as a result the Wisconsin Valley Electric Co. and its patrons were caused much expense and inconvenience. The leak was not found until Thursday morning and in the meantime about $75 worth of gas escaped. The indirect loss to the company and to its patrons, including industrial plants, was still greater, as the escaping gas used up the company's reserve supply.

HARD LUCK DEFEAT FOR LOCAL NORMAL

Stevens Point Football Team Out-plays River Falls, But Loses Championship Game

River Falls 7, Stevens Point 3. That was the outcome of the football game played at the local fair grounds last Friday afternoon for the championship of the northern division of the Wisconsin Normal schools, but the person has not yet been found who saw the hard-fought combat who does not admit that Stevens Point outplayed and outgamed the westerners. The brilliant open-field work of the locals completely upset the visitors, who, without the proverbial horseshoe, would have been defeated by a comfortable margin.

According to "dope" River Falls were the favorites before the start of the game. River Falls had defeated Superior Normal 50 to 0, while the local team had been held to a tie score, 12 to 12, by Superior. Stevens Point had defeated Stout by a score of 21 to 12, while River Falls had defeated the same team, 46 to 0. The arrogant northerners were confident of a victory and a possible score of 30 points.

The day was an ideal football day for the spectators as well as for the players. A parade from down town headed by a band marched to the fair grounds. Banners and colors intermingled throughout the large crowd that witnessed the conflict. An assembly of 1,000 persons witnessed the game. It was the big game of the year.

Promptly at 2:30 the captains of the teams chose goals. Capt. Burns lost the toss and Seymour of the local team kicked off. The River Falls man was downed in his tracks. Stevens Point held for downs and upon receiving the ball on the punt, surprised River Falls by open formations. The first quarter was a saw-saw game with Stevens Point on the aggressive. Early in the second quarter the local team brought the ball into their opponents' territory by a formation of spread plays, the backs carrying the ball for large and consistent gains. Failing to make their downs 5 yards from the goal line, a forward pass was attempted on the last down. A River Falls player deliberately interfered with Hertz, preventing a successful play. The officials failed to see the foul and the ball went to River Falls on their own 20 yard line. Before the end of the half the northerners had brought the ball up to the local's 20 yard line, but time was called, as River Falls were attempting to make the necessary distance of 3 1/2 yards on the fourth play. Score first half, 0 to 0.

Receiving the ball on the kick off the locals carried it down the field in a steady march to the 20 yard line, where the locals were penalized fifteen yards for holding, although even the opposing players declared that no holding was being done. On the next play the locals made up 13 yards and followed with a five yard gain. With 8 yards to go, Ritchay, Stevens Point quarterback, dropped back to the 35 yard line and placed a drop kick between the up rights for the first score of the game. Score: Stevens Point 3, River Falls 0.

No further scoring occurred during the third quarter, although the River Falls aggregation, through desperate attempts to win the game, forced their lighter opponents back to the 35 yard line at the end of the quarter. The heavier weight of a western team began to tell and a gradual offensive play based upon the famous Minnesota shift placed the ball on the 5-yard line, where a fumble was recovered by a local player. The team immediately began to bring the ball up the field when a fumble, the break of the game, was recovered by the red jersey men of the north. On the next few plays they were held, but on a play which was meant for a line plunge a River Falls back tore around end when his progress through the line was stopped. This resulted in the only touchdown of the game. Goal was kicked. Score 7 to 3.

The local team were not disheartened but immediately after the kick-off brought the ball into scoring distance only to lose it within the 20 yard zone. The ball was lost on downs and the ball came into River Falls' possession. The half ended soon after.

It was estimated that the locals gained three times as much ground as their opponents, but the breaks of the game went against them. The local team were penalized 80 yards to their rivals' 10. This game closed the locals' season, while River Falls will play the La Crosse Normal for the state championship.

The local lineup was as follows: D. Horne lb; Seymour lt; Beekler lg; Metzger c; Gavin and Moe rg; Smith rt; Hertz re; Ritchay, Chamberlain qb; Burns lb; Klug rb; Horne fb.

The season's record for the Pointers is five victories, one tie and one defeat. A total of 212 points was scored by the team, while the opposing players were able to score only 37 points.

BACK 'EM UP

"If the Red Cross or Y. M. C. A. 'hit' you for a piece of change come across—they are the best organizations in the world for the soldiers." Thus said Earl Weller, Co. B, 128th Infantry, Waco, Texas, in a letter to his uncle, William Weller of Amherst. Don't just kick when the Y. M. C. A. solicitor calls on you—"kick in."

PLAN BIG ADDITION

With a proposed addition to cost $100,000, the Wisconsin Valley Electric Co., which owns the Stevens Point franchise, will have one of the best auxiliary reserve steam plants in the state. The plant is to be built at Wausau, but will serve as a source of supply for all the cities and villages on the company's system, in case of emergency.

TESTS SHOW BIG GAIN

Grade Pupils in City Schools Make Substantial Improvement During Past Few Months

When the roll of Board of Education members was called at the regular meeting last Monday evening, all responded except J. L. Frymark and W. J. Dumbleton.

The usual large list of bills allowed included one for $3,915, presented by Finch Bros. for installing a heating plant in the Fifth ward building. A surety bond guaranteeing this work was presented, as was also one from Jas. B. Sullivan & Co. for similar work done at the Washington school, First ward.

The framing of a letter in reference to the insurance settlement on the Sixth ward building, damaged by fire last June, was left with the insurance committee and clerk. It is believed that more money can be secured from the various companies which carried policies.

Supt. Snyder reported an enrollment of 1,269 in the city schools during October, with an average attendance of 1,170. Those neither absent nor tardy numbered 738. There are 608 boys and 661 girls enrolled. Seventy-three cases of tardiness were reported. The closing of the first grade in the Fourth ward parochial school has so greatly increased the attendance at the Grant school that a section of the youngsters now reside in the second grade room.

One or more rooms in the Washington or Lincoln schools may be opened on Saturday afternoon for use of the Junior Red Cross, who will make material for civilians in foreign countries who are in distress.

Wages for substitute teachers were fixed at $1.50 for the first three days and $2.00 for succeeding days for those who have not heretofore taught in our schools. The pay of experienced substitutes was fixed at $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

Supt. Snyder exhibited a series of charts showing results of the mental tests given in the various grades last week. Similar tests took place last winter but the later ones show an improvement of fully 50 per cent in some studies. This is especially true in arithmetic.

Bids will be asked from local plumbers for covering the pipes and boiler in the Fifth ward school with asbestos. Proposals will also be received by the supply committee for installing 28 storm windows on the north and west sides of this building.

The resignation of John L. Frymark, Fourth ward member, was accepted and upon motion of F. J. Jerzak the selection of Dr. L. P. Pasternacki as his successor was made unanimously.

Schools are closed this afternoon to enable the students to take part in the patriotic parade.

A petition signed by nearly every boy in the High school, asking that they be granted the privilege of organizing for basket ball games, was read. This question was referred to the superintendent. The board then adjourned.

MAY COME HOME

It is understood that some of the Wisconsin soldiers at Camp MacArthur, Waco, Texas, are planning on coming home for Christmas. Some are already arranging for furloughs and will make the trip unless ordered to move before. The trip home and back to camp will involve considerable expense, but most of the boys will feel that even a few hours at home would be worth the cost.
